

WETS ON RECORD IN OPPOSITION TO RETURN OF SALOON

Secretaries of Association Opposed to Prohibition Meet Here to Discuss Amendments to Volstead Law.

PLANS FOR NEXT CAMPAIGN CONSIDERED

Effort to Be Made to Obtain Wet Plank in National Platforms of Both the Major Parties.

The Executive Committee of the Association Opposed to the Prohibition Amendment, holding a national conference of branch secretaries at Hotel Jefferson, adopted a resolution this afternoon placing the association on record as "unalterably opposed to the saloon."

The resolution follows: "Resolved, that the conference go on record as unalterably opposed to the saloon, and that the Advisory Committee be instructed to prepare and recommend to the various state branches appropriate legislation providing for a plan of distribution that will not permit the return of the saloon."

"We have not decided how we shall seek to amend the Volstead act," W. M. Stuyton, steamship owner of Baltimore, vice president and general director of the association, said today. "But our first objective is the Volstead act."

View as to Amendments. "My personal opinion is that it should be amended so that juries will be given the power to determine what is or is not an intoxicating beverage. It seems that the general opinion is that 2 1/2 percent of alcohol in beer does not make it intoxicating, but the association is not prepared to advocate any particular percentage of alcohol at this time."

That question will be discussed during a meeting of officials of several of the State branch associations who are here. Later I hope to make some announcement as to policy."

Reports that the association will not formation of a third party are unfounded on fact, but we do propose to conduct an active campaign for incorporation of an anti-prohibition plank in the 1924 plank of both major parties.

Arguments to Be Made. "We will endeavor to convince the leaders of the two parties that their success depends upon the inclusion in their platform of a plank which is acceptable to the anti-prohibitionists. We will show that their chances of success depend upon the vote in certain pivotal states, such, for instance, as Missouri, Illinois, Ohio, New Jersey, New York and others of that character."

The last elections demonstrated that the "wet" will scratch their party ticket in favor of candidates with liberal views. We propose to intensify our organization those eight or ten key states and by the time the 1924 campaign opens will be in position to claim majorities in those states against the party which refuses to include a wet plank in its platform."

"Ultimately, of course, as our name implies, we seek repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment. Our organization was formed within a week after the Eighteenth Amendment was ratified, a year before it became effective and long before the Volstead law was proposed."

May Choose Leaders. "It is also probable that at the meeting here an effort will be made to agree upon some member of each branch of the National Congress to represent our interests in that body. I have no idea at this time who may be chosen."

Eighteen states were represented at the first session today. Secretaries of the various states reported on the results of the recent elections, as they appeared to have been affected by prohibition.

James W. Byrnes, vice president of the Missouri Branch Association, reporting for Missouri, said the association had been active during the campaign in St. Louis and did not work out in the State. He said Senator Reed's election was due to the fact that he was regarded as "wet."

Byrnes said that the election increased the number of "wet" Missouri Congressmen from three to 11.

Chinese Buccaneers, Who Traveled as Passengers, Take British Ship at Sea

Pirates Hold Vessel Bound for Hongkong 13 Hours Before They Are Driven Away in Sampans.

By the Associated Press.

HONGKONG, Nov. 20.—Sixty-five Chinese buccaneers, who apparently might have stepped from some ancient log of the Spanish Main, traveled as passengers aboard the British steamer Sul-An when she left Macao for Hongkong yesterday afternoon. Seizing the ship a few miles out, the pirates held her for 13 hours and the crew and passengers made Hongkong today, with their former captors driven away in sampans, only after a fierce fight in which two persons were killed and several wounded, including the captain of the Sul-An, a French priest and another European passenger.

The British steamer was carrying many European passengers. The pirates, heavily armed, were disguised as first or second class passengers.

Threatened to Lure Ship. When the Europeans showed resistance, the pirates threatened to beach and burn the vessel. In the fighting that followed two Indian watchmen were killed and two others of the crew were wounded. The captain's wound was serious.

The invaders then got the upper hand and locked up passengers and crew. The pirates passed Hongkong, out at sea, and began to steam in the direction of Swatow.

Pirate Chief Wounded. Finally, 13 hours later, a European shot and wounded the pirate chief. The chief's wife then directed that the excursion be abandoned. Midway between Hongkong and Swatow the outlaws escaped in sampans.

The Sul-An reached Hongkong at noon today.

The Sul-An is listed as a ship of 1565 tons, owned by the Hongkong, Canton and Macao Steamship Co., Ltd. Macao is across the mouth of the Canton River from Hongkong and about 50 miles distant.

COMMUNISTS SEIZE FOOD FROM DINERS

Berlin Rowdies Invade Restaurants—Smash Bottles of Wine on Floor.

Special Wirephoto to the Post-Dispatch and the Chicago Daily News. BERLIN, Nov. 20.—Several Americans, including women, had the strange experience Sunday night of seeing their food snatched from them while dining in fashionable Berlin downtown restaurants. Ragged, unkempt and unshaven Communists invaded these places, grabbed everything in sight and then disappeared. No warning had been received and when the dangerous-looking gangsters rushed into the restaurants everybody was quiet, dining and the bands were playing.

Suddenly the musicians stopped and when the diners looked up in surprise they saw themselves confronted by rowdies, who, with muffled threats, took away from their plates the steaks, chops, fish and vegetables and then furiously smashed bottles of wine and champagne on the floor. In some cases they even snatched away the food which the diners had on their forks.

Several of the women became hysterical, but as the unbidden guests looked desperate the waiters were afraid to interfere, and the gangs succeeded in escaping before the police arrived. Knives, forks, spoons and ash trays galore were missing when the loss was checked up.

2 WOMEN REPORTED INDICTED FOR POISONING HUSBANDS

Mrs. Tillie Klinek and Mrs. Nellie S. Koulik Said to Have Been Named at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—Three true bills were reported to have been voted by the county grand jury today, jointly naming Mrs. Tillie Klinek and her cousin, Mrs. Nellie Sturmer Koulik, on charges of having murdered two of their former husbands by poison, and of having attempted to murder Joseph Klinek, the last of Mrs. Klinek's four known husbands, who is recovering from an illness alleged to have been caused by poisoning.

MEXICAN REBEL EXECUTED

Col. Regino Gonzalez Captured Several Days Ago.

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 20.—Col. Regino Gonzalez, second in command to Huan Carrasco, who recently was killed in battle, was found guilty of rebellion by a court martial at Mazatlan and executed last night. Gonzalez was captured several days ago at Acaponeta, Durango.

Football Player Fatally Hurt. ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Nov. 20.—Surgeons say there is little hope for recovery of Monte Hinkle, 19-year-old high school student, who suffered fractures of the spine and the vertebrae in a football game at Effingham, Kan., Saturday. The youth was brought to a hospital here yesterday and pneumonia has developed.

22 Children in 28 Years. By the Associated Press. DUQUOIN, Ill., Nov. 20.—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lareau of Beaverville, south of Duquoin, have been married 28 years and have had 22 children, 18 of whom are alive. The oldest is the youngest 1 month. There have been no twins or triplets.

THREE WOMEN ON GRAND JURY IN HALL-MILLS CASE

Story of Murder of Minister and Woman Choir Leader at His Church Being Presented by State.

MYSTERY NOW OF 9 WEEKS' DURATION

Special Prosecutor Denies Report That He Had Said He Was Confident of Indictments.

By the Associated Press. SOMERVILLE, N. J., Nov. 20.—The Somerset County grand jury, with the aid of special State Prosecutor Wilbur A. Mott, today began an investigation of the murder of the Rev. Edward W. Hall and Mrs. Eleanor R. Mills, now a mystery of nine weeks' duration. Fourteen witnesses were heard today.

Somerville, a town of 14,000 persons, is not enthusiastic about its position in the limelight. Its citizens believe that Middlesex County should foot the bill because it was Middlesex County citizens who were murdered.

Special Prosecutor Mott, who has remained silent as to the number and names of the witnesses who will be called in the presentation of the case, issued a brief statement yesterday denying that he was confident of obtaining indictments.

"I was never confident," the prosecutor said. "The evidence, however, is ready and the case is now up to the grand jury."

There are three women on the grand jury who will hear the story of the case as it has been built up by the prosecution.

Witnesses Under Guard. A detachment of State troopers patrolled the streets about the courthouse and others were detailed to guard witnesses.

Raymond Schneider, who notified the police that he had found the bodies of Hall and Mrs. Mills under a tree on the Phillips farm, Sept. 14, was the first witness called.

Schneider, who accused a companion of having committed the double murder and later retracted, has been in jail on a jury charge. It was understood that he would be asked to describe the finding of the bodies and to identify certain pictures of the scene of the murder.

Schneider left the jury room after testifying nearly an hour and then reported, stating that the windows into the room where the jury was meeting, could see Mott engage Foreman Gibb in a conference.

Newspaper men could see what was going on, but could hear nothing. Later a deadline was established around the structure. A State trooper broke a twig from a tree, placed it on the ground 25 feet from the building and ordered none to cross without permission.

About 100 women, however, had gained access to the courthouse. They mounted to a second-floor balcony which commands a view of nearly all the interior of the courthouse. Leanings over the railing they gazed at witnesses seated outside the jury room and asked repeatedly if they could not get into the trial.

Pearl Bahner, 16, who with Schneider when he found the bodies, arrived this morning from Newark, where she had been lodged in the House of the Good Shepherd, after charges of incorrigibility had been pending against her. She was taken to the jail here to await her call.

BONUS BILL REINTRODUCED

Amendment for Raising of Money by Tax on Imported Liquor.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Representative Britten, Republican, of Illinois, today reintroduced the soldiers' bonus bill vetoed by President Harding at the last session of Congress, amended so as to provide for raising the necessary funds by the taxation of beer, wines and champagne.

The British bill would provide a tax of $30 a barrel on imported beer, $10 a barrel on domestic beer, $10 a gallon on imported still wines and $2 a gallon on domestic still wines. Prof. Tiernan Resigns. By the Associated Press. SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 20.—Prof. John P. Tiernan, who recently charged that Harry Poulin, haberdasher, was the father of Mrs. Tiernan's third child, today submitted his resignation as member of the University of Notre Dame faculty. Prof. Tiernan was an instructor in the law department. The resignation was accepted without comment. It was said.

HAWK, STEALING A CHICKEN, BEATEN TO DEATH BY WOMAN

She Seizes Marauder by Wings When It Attempts to Fly Away With Fowl.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. SUMMERVILLE, Ill., Nov. 20.—A big chicken hawk with a wing spread of more than four feet was beaten to death with a club by Mrs. Albert Bister, 35 years old, on a farm near here, in Macoupin County, Saturday, after she had seized the bird by the wings when it attempted to rob her poultry yard of a chicken.

Mrs. Bister told the correspondent by telephone that she was attracted by the cries of her chicken flock and ran to the barnyard, hiding in a small shed. When the hawk, with a fowl in its talons, attempted to fly away, Mrs. Bister pounced upon it. In the struggle that followed she managed to seize a stick and put an end to the marauder's depredations.

DETROIT SPORTSMEN PLAN HUNT IN THE NORTH WITH SEAPLANE

Party of Six Next Year to Go After Polar Bears in Heated Up-Holstered Craft.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Business men who can get away from their desks for only a week or two in the summer and still want to shoot Polar bears and walrus during their vacation need worry no longer. A group of Detroit sportsmen have found a way.

Next June six of them are going North to the land of the narwal and ptarmigan to try their marksmanship. Ordinarily this trip would take four to five weeks by train, sled and canoe. The sportsmen gentlemen are going in a specially designed seaplane, with heating devices and up-holstered fittings.

The men expect to get back by the first week of July and have three weeks' hunting. Their names are I. M. Uppercu, Howard E. Coffin, Harold H. Emmons, Dr. James W. Inches, William E. Metzger and Charles F. Redden and they can hardly wait.

COURT TO REVIEW CASE TO TEST RAIL LABOR BOARD'S POWER

Pennsylvania Road Questioned Authority of Board to Designate Employees' Representatives.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—The Supreme Court today granted the application of the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. for a review of the decision of a case against the United States Railroad Labor Board, brought to test the authority of the board to designate those who should represent railroad employees in conferences with representatives of the railroad company for the settlement of labor disputes.

LIVING COST FIGURED AT 57.1 PCT. HIGHER THAN IN 1914

One Per Cent Increase in Month Preceding Oct. 15 Reported by National Industrial Conference Board.

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—The cost of living among wage earners' families in United States was 57.1 per cent higher on Oct. 15 last than in July, 1914, the National Industrial Conference Board announced yesterday. There was an increase of one per cent in the month preceding Oct. 15. Continued slight increases in the average cost of food, clothing and coal were noted.

Between July, 1920, when the peak of the rise in the cost of living since 1914 was reached, and October, 1922, the cost of living dropped 25.2 per cent the statement said.

CLEMENCEAU PAYS SILENT TRIBUTE AT ROOSEVELT GRAVE

Tiger of France Motors 70 Miles to Lay Wreath on Tomb at Oyster Bay—Visits Roosevelt Home.

RISES AT 4 A. M.—
SECOND DAY OF VISIT

Former Premier Also Calls on H. H. Kohlsaat, III in Hotel, Who Had Expressed Wish to See Him.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Clemenceau stood at the grave of Roosevelt in Oyster Bay yesterday. The afternoon sun shone full on the grave of the famous Tiger. The great Frenchman had brought his properly equipped motor car, a small group of men and women stood on neighboring graves to peer at the Frenchman while he kept his eyes fixed on the grass-covered mound before him.

For fully five minutes he stood there in silence. He voiced no tribute. He did not have to. His stature, his figure, with head bowed, was tribute enough. Then without a word he turned, his elbow
on the car, and shuffled off toward the automobile, which was to take him to the widow's home on Sagamore Hill. A great Frenchman had come to a great American.

It was only the second day of the visit to this country of Georges Clemenceau. The first day was one of wearing fatigue even on such a robust frame as that of the man who at 81 has ventured on a maneuver across 2000 miles of ocean.

Ordinarily, even with a much younger man, it is expected that a distinguished visitor will be permitted to spend the day after his arrival in this country in resting. And this procedure would have been followed by those directing Clemenceau's visit had not the elderly statesman insisted that there were two things he must do.

The first was to pay a visit to Herman H. Kohlsaat, the former Chicago publisher and intimate friend of many prominent men, lying out-riggered in bed in the quiet Hotel Roosevelt as a result of the paralysis which struck him down two months ago. Kohlsaat came to know the Tiger abroad during war days and had formed a strong admiration for him.

Clemenceau is the one man in the world whom I would cross the ocean
to see," Kohlsaat told Edward M.
Hume, when he learned Clemenceau was coming to this country. The fact that he would be unable to see the elderly statesman was a source of regret to the publisher.

His decision at breakfast.
Hume told Clemenceau of this remark yesterday morning at the breakfast table in the home of Charles Dana Gibson, where the Tiger is guest.

"I shall go to see him today," said Clemenceau simply. Only the night before he had expressed his intention of visiting the grave of Theodore Roosevelt. Both of these were his own decisions, made without discussion or planning and firmly followed.

No word was sent to Kohlsaat of the impending visit of his distinguished friend. The door to the bedroom simply swung open and Clemenceau stood before Kohlsaat. And representing on this occasion, Clemenceau was not silent. At the conclusion of the greeting between the two,
the old statesman spoke—as always in this country—in English.

"You shall visit my country? I should like it very much," responded the invalid.

"I promise you not to die until you come," concluded the Tiger.

And he turned and shuffled out of the room, followed by the other members of the party.

Rose at 4 A. M.—
Clemenceau rose promptly at 4 o'clock in the morning and occupied himself with reading and writing until the rest of the Gibson home began to stir, two hours later. Even that hour was early for the Gibson, but the habits of their guest were known to them. At 6:30 the family and Clemenceau sat down to breakfast.

The Frenchman had occupied a room on the third floor overlooking Sagamore Hill, and appeared as he always does—never fresh and never tired, but just unchanged. The Tiger remarked he had had the longest sleep since he left France. He had retired at 8 p. m.

Yesterday Mrs. Gibson said:
"He's a darling. I'm so glad he is with us, but I do wish he'd eat more."

The Tiger had a breakfast that would seem strange to the American palate, except for one item, two boiled eggs. The rest of the meal consisted of himself was vegetable soup, Gruyere cheese, bread, butter and water.

After breakfast Clemenceau returned to his room again to be by himself, while his secretary, M. Lefevre, sought vainly to catch up with the deluge of letters which had flooded the morning mail. Finally Lefevre gave up in distress. It was too much to be done in one day,
much less in a few hours.

Shortly after 9 o'clock, House, Ber-

hard M. Baruch and John D. Davis, former Ambassador to Great Britain, arrived at the Gibson House to bid Clemenceau good morning. While they were still in the lobby, Gen.
Pershing, who knew Clemenceau well in France, arrived, bearing a huge wreath with big black leaves and the colors of France and the United States on its ribbons. This was the wreath Clemenceau was to place on the grave of Theodore Roosevelt.

Visitors left with the exception of Hume, shortly after 10 o'clock and at 10:50 the landaulet of Mrs. Otto Kahn and the limousine of Mrs. Gibson drove up to the door. Clemenceau, after a brief interview with the photographers, who seem to irritate him, entered the limousine with his secretary and Hume. In the landaulet were Mrs. Gibson and Mrs.
Hume. An automobile filled with newspaper men was behind the two cars.

Stays for 10 Minutes.
At the bedside of Kohlsaat, Clemenceau and his three men companions stayed for 10 minutes. Before leaving his sick friend, Clemenceau accepted an invitation to visit the home of Potter Palmer, brother-in-law of Kohlsaat, in Chicago, when his tour takes him there.

From the Biltmore the cars sped northward. Two motor cycle patrolmen led the way and constantly urged the party to greater speed.

Meanwhile M. Cruzy, correspondent of the Petit Parisien, who came here with Clemenceau, was relating how the Tiger objects to fast automobile driving. In his automobile France he has a small speedometer in the tonneau where he can keep a constant eye on it. If it goes above 17 miles an hour, the tradition is,
the chauffeur is dismissed at once.

But the motor cycle patrolmen paid no attention and soon the machine was making 35, 50 and finally even 60 miles an hour, while the police waved all traffic to the side.

Finally, the car drove into the estate of Otto H. Kahn and up to the house.

Trip to the Cemetery.
Kahn, in golf clothes, greeted the party. They remained for lunch. The trip of 25 miles had been made in 45 minutes. After lunch the party sped to the cemetery where Roosevelt lies. About 50 persons gathered about the automobile. Clemenceau borrowed a fountain pen
from one of the motor cycle patrolmen and wrote in French on his card
as he walked up the sand pathway to the grave.

"In the memory of the great Theodore Roosevelt."

There was a short delay when it was found that the iron railing about his grave had not been unlocked.
Clemenceau remained silently in front of the grave as his party sought a key. When it could not be found, he slowly removed his hat and told the story. Then the party stood in the silence. Then the party went on to the Roosevelt home at Sagamore Hill.

Views Trophies.
During the brief stay at the Roosevelt home, he sought to see the environment in which Roosevelt lived. He went to the study and talked hardily at all. He shuffled about the big trophy room, gazing at the many prizes, guided by the widow of the man he came to honor.

After the return to the city Clemenceau shouted to newspaper men
as they approached House.

of that state, under date of Nov. 18, requesting that it become effective immediately, was made public last night after a copy had been transmitted to Vice President Coolidge, with the request that it be read into the Senate record as soon as possible.
The resignation will become effective tomorrow. The Vice President was unable at today's brief session to present the letter of resignation and Newberry's name remains temporarily on the rolls. Newberry is at his home in Detroit.

Although declaring in a review of the long and bitter controversy over his right to a place in the Senate
since his election over Henry Ford,
his Democratic opponent four years ago, that this right had been "confirmed," Newberry, in his letter said he had been impelled to retire from that body because of the defect of his Republican colleague Senator Townsend, in the Nov. 2 election.

At the same time, in discussing the controversy in its relation to the campaign just closed, during which it was an issue in many states, Newberry expressed the conviction that a "fair analysis of the vote in Michigan and other states, where friends and political enemies alike have suffered defeat, will demonstrate that a general feeling of unrest was mainly responsible."

The present situation, he said,
rendered "futile" his further service in the Senate, since it meant that he would "continue to be hampered by partisan political persecution."
Should future opportunity present itself, Newberry added, he would not hesitate to offer himself to his State and country.

Assailed in the Senate.
Prior to the vote in the Senate on the question of his title to a seat Newberry was assailed repeatedly in speeches on the floor and as vigorously defended. Last summer, a letter made public by the national committee, Secretary Hughes joined in the defense of Newberry by declaring that he had been "wrongly and most unjustly convicted."

Convicted in Michigan of a conspiracy to violate election laws, Senator Newberry appealed to the Supreme Court, which declared unconstitutional the statute under which he was accused.

(Newberry, both before and after,
the Michigan primary in which he was nominated, filed affidavits in Washington that the campaign had been conducted by his friends and that no money was expended to his knowledge or with his consent. After the primary Frank Blair, treasurer of the Newberry Campaign Committee, filed an affidavit showing expenditure by the committee of $175,568. The Federal statute forbids expenditure of more than $10,000 in the nomination and election, and if the State statute limits the amount below $10, 000, the Federal statute adopts the amount of the State statute.)

Departure of Newberry from the Senate and the swearing in of Senator-elect Bayard, Democrat, to succeed Senator Dupont, Republican, of Delaware, will give the Republicans a membership of 59 compared with a Democratic strength of 37, unless a successor to Newberry is appointed.

Speculation on Successor.
While there has been no intimation in Washington as to whom Gov.
Grosbeck might appoint, the first name brought out in the discussion among Republican leaders and others is that of Charles B. Warren, who is about to relinquish his post as Ambassador to Japan.

Warren, who is a Detroit lawyer and a former Republican national committeeman from Michigan, was being urged to make the race for the Senate at the time Newberry first was brought out as candidate, but Warren declined to do so because he

W. C. STEER, BROKER, DIES OF APOPLEXY

Figured in Suit to Break Will of Father, Who Left $700,000 Estate.

William C. Steer, 49 years old, of 5605 Washington court, son of the late Frank A. Steer, a clothing merchant, died at his home today of the effects of an apoplectic stroke suffered last April.

He had been confined to his home
for many weeks. Before his illness he was engaged in the bond brokerage business with Reinholdt & Co., Boatmen's Bank Building.

He was born in St. Louis. Until his father's death in London in 1913 Steer was associated with him in the
F. A. Steer Publishing Goods Co.,
now at Ninth and Olive streets.

The elder Steer left his son a $60,- 000 trust fund out of an estate valued at $700,000. William C. Steer became the central figure in a suit to break his father's will, and in which he alleged that his brother-in-law, John S. Leahy, an attorney, had unduly influenced its provisions.

The suit was settled out of court in 1914 by an agreement in which his three sisters agreed to pay his wife $22,500 and to allow her the interest from one-half of the $60,000 trust fund after his death.

The son charged during trial of the suit that his father was still carried sound mind at the time he made his will.

William C. Steer was a baseball enthusiast. Once when he was confined to his home with a broken leg his favorite game in and autographed the player card. He is survived by his wife and three sisters, Mrs. John S. Leahy, Mrs. Edward
Bentley and Mrs. Frank Noy of St.
Louis. He had no children.

The funeral will be held at St.
Peter's Church, Spring avenue and Lindell boulevard, tomorrow at 2:30
p. m. Interment will be private.

NEGRO, 19, GOES TO PRISON FOR 6 YEARS FOR PART IN $7.50 HOLDUP

Sidney Wade, 19 years old, a negro, of 2342 Washington avenue, pleaded guilty to a charge of robbery
in the first degree in Judge Hogan's court today and was sentenced to serve six years in the penitentiary for a holdup which netted him and four other negroes $7.50.

Wade was arrested as a robbery suspect in another case, July 23. He was identified by Max Goetz of 2412 Fall avenue, as one of five negroes who robbed him of $5.50, July 12, on Compton avenue, between Washington and Lucas avenues.

The charge on which Wade was arrested has been nolle prossed in connection of his plea of guilty in the other case.

Soon afterward Warren arranged his affairs so that he could join the staff of the Provost Marshal-General during the war and before he turned again to his business affairs he was selected as Ambassador to Japan.

There is speculation here as to the possibility of Newberry again becoming a candidate for office. In some quarters it is believed that in view of the statement, in concluding his letter to Gov. Grosbeck, that he would not hesitate to offer his services to his State and country, in the event
there seemed in the future to be opportunities for public service, he might be a candidate for the Senate two years hence, but a number of his friends are of the opinion that that is not probable.

Newberry's departure will leave a vacancy on the Naval Affairs Committee. During the major part of the Roosevelt administration, he served as Assistant Secretary of the Navy, becoming Secretary of the department during the last few months of Roosevelt's stay in the White House.

Warren, Cousins and Smith Mentioned as Successors to Newberry.
By Associated Press.
DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 20.—Among persons mentioned as successors to Senator Newberry are Charles B.
Warren, Ambassador to Japan and a Detroit lawyer; Mayor James Cousins of Detroit; William A. Alden, Smithsonian Senate select Newberry took, and W. W. Potter, State Fuel Administrator.

Sensor-elect Woodbridge N. Ferria, informed of Senator Newberry's resignation, said: "Senator Newberry by his resignation has moved both his friends and enemies from an embarassing situation."

Sensor Townsend, whose recent defeat is widely regarded as having precipitated Newberry's resignation, said:

"Senator Newberry and his family have suffered quite enough at the hands of those who are not worthy to be in his shoes, either as statesmen, citizens or patriots. I feel he was unjustly and unfairly attacked.
There was no fraud or corruption in Senator Newberry's election. It was foolish to spend so much money but it was perfectly legal and he was entitled to his seat."

PETER J. RATCAN, 34, FORMER ATHLETE, DIES

Brain Tumor Fatal—Managed Ben Miller Soccer Team, National Champions in 1919.

Peter J. Ratcan, manager of the Ben Miller, former national champion soccer team, died today from a brain tumor for which he had undergone two operations in less than two years. He was 34 years old and resided at 5552 Vernon avenue.

He was one of three brothers who achieved local fame as athletes at Christian Brothers College and later became nationally known as members of professional soccer teams.

One brother, Harry, is now soccer coach of the United States Military Academy at West Point. The other brother is William.

Peter Ratcan's death occurred while friends were preparing to give a benefit soccer game for him. Dec.
17. It had been hoped that $2500
could be raised through this agency.
Friends said today, upon hearing of his death, that the benefit would be held and the proceeds given to his widow.

Quit Playing Eight Years Ago.
Ratcan had not played soccer for about eight years, but had directed and developed the Ben Miller team.
Although he had not attended a game, his season he was still carried as manager of the team.

Harry Marre, one of the Ben Miller players, said today that Ratcan had weakened steadily since the first operation in January, 1920. In June of last year there was a second operation and he never regained his full strength.

Ratcan began to assemble the Ben Miller team about 10 years ago.
He reached its greatest efficiency in 1919, when it won the national championship by defeating the champion teams of the East. The team won the city championship four times.

Ratcan was recognized as an authority on the game and a coach without a superior. He was himself a great player, although Harry Rat-can, who played with famous teams in the East, probably eclipsed him and

and Peter Ratcan took the place of the best players in the country.

Had Wide Acquaintance.
Ratcan was known personally to thousands of St. Louisans. He was popular among the collegiate athletes of the city. He was a star backfield man for Chris-popularity grew when he entered the professional soccer field and he did not leave the game to its pres-

He is survived by his widow, Mrs.

MAN, 75, AND WOMAN HELD ON BIGAMY CHARGE

Complaint Made by First Wife Whom He Left With $5 to Support Family 15 Years.

Mrs. Pearl Wright considers herself an economical housekeeper and a good manager, but she admits that she has not been able to care for herself and four children on the money which her husband, Lycurgus H. Wright, left for them when he departed from St. Louis 15 years ago. She says the sum he left for the support of the family until his return, was $5.

Wright, who is 75 years old, returned last February, and found his wife and the children living at 1815 South Thirteenth street. The youngest, a daughter, was 16 years old, and the oldest of the three sons was 22. The sons were working and supporting the mother, who in previous years had supported the children by working in a shoe factory.

Mrs. Wright is 43 years old.
Wright had little or nothing to say about the circumstances of his departure, and the financial provision he had made for the family at that time. Instead, Mrs. Wright said, he had several suggestions to make as to other and more expensive hired help, and her mother went along with him. In that case, he indicated, he would be willing to return to the household.

The sons, who were paying the bills, told Wright he could stay around the place if their mother was willing but that they did not intend to go to the expense of moving. This attitude displeased Wright, and he again went away and remained away for several months.

He visited the Thirteenth street home again during the summer, and his daughter learned that he was staying at a rooming house at 1146 North Compton avenue. She visited him there, and her mother went along on a later visit, and

DOMESTIC FARGE AT GARRICK KEEPS FULL HOUSE IN UPROAR

Marital Difficulties of Two Divorce Lawyers Longingly Depicted by Woodward Players.

"What's Your Husband Doing?" a three-act farce by George V. Hobart, is the offering with which the Woodward Players yesterday began their ninth week of stock productions at the Garrick Theater. Last night's capacity house was kept in an uproar of laughter by the domestic tribulations of two young lawyers who, while specializing in divorce cases at the office, strive to avoid them at home.

Their efforts meet a fair degree of success until both, on missions for their respective clients, are arrested in a raid on a roadhouse. Here disaster threatens, but accounts are squared through the coincidental arrest of their jealous wives, who have gone to the place to cancel an order for an anniversary dinner.

Especially creditable was the playing of Maurice Franklin as Charles Filderson, one of the lawyers. Erville Anderson, as the chief of police, made a determined prohibition enforcer, and Miss Hazel Whitmore as Mrs. Ridley, a sentimental young client whose ill-timed introduction to strong drink adds further complications to the tangle, gave a convincing demonstration of alcoholism. John Warner was John Widgast, the other member of the firm.

FLYING CIRCUS FOR MAYNARD FAMILY

By the Associated Press.

GARDEN CITY, N. Y., Nov. 22.—A flying circus at Curtis Field yesterday netted $3000 for the widow Maynard, the "dying parson," for whom the affair was arranged by the American Legion.

COMBING WON'T RID HAIR OF DANDRUFF

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to make hair really wet and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and itching of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store and it never fails to do the work.

2551 Men Attend Bible Class

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 22.—The business men's Bible class of the First Baptist Church here is about to make a record for attendance at a men's Bible class. Yesterday morning the class was so large it moved to the auditorium of the Ivanhoe Masonic Temple. There were 2551 men present. Three traffic patrolmen were on duty to handle the crowd and prevent a block-up by the hundreds of motor cars.

SNARE DRUMMER OVERWORKED
THIS WEEK AT THE ORPHEUM

Bill Not Below Average, but Doesn't Give Orchestra Member Much Chance to Come Up for Air.

Take the orchestra's snare drummer out of this week's bill at the Orpheum and there would be no show. Not that the acts are below the average, but simply because the drummer and his rattle and clatter appear to be indispensable.

From the minute when Selbini and Grovini open the performance with a combination juggling and trick bicycle stunt until the final curtain falls on the trapeze feats of the Three Danube Sisters, the overworked drummer comes up only once for air, and that is when Charlie O'Donnell, late of the Ziegfeld Follies, makes the audience hold to the sides of the seats with his hair-raising acrobatics stop of a wobbling ladder.

Although Bernard Granville and his "four girls" in a singing and dancing skit are booked as the headliners—and their act is truly clever—the Sewell Sisters, in a trio of graceful dances, and the duo of Douglas Leavitt and Ruth Mary Leavitt, in a miniature musical comedy, easily share the honors.

Ben Nee One, Chinese minstrel, and Fenton and Field, cracked some new jokes and several old ones, and warbled several comic songs.

BURLESQUE FILLS EMPRESS BILL

Few Spectators Introduced Have Little Discretion.

Vandeville is all but crowded off the bill by burlesque at the Empress this week. Incidental to the development of a revue called "The Ritz Girls of 19 and 20," headed by Harry Cooper, who was a good singer many years ago, a few specialties are introduced, but they have little distinction.

Nathaniel, an acrobat, who makes up like a monkey, leaves the stage and cavorts over the backs of the seats and along the balcony railing in a way that is terrifying rather than amusing to women and children.

Piano Recital by the Holman Sisters.

Theater Manager Held Up.

By the Associated Press.

SEDALIA, Mo., Nov. 22.—Three men shortly before midnight held up H. A. Jones, house manager of the Sedalia Theater, and robbed him of $35. Jones, a friend of a diamond ring and diamond earring at the theater office. The robbers then demanded that Jones open the theater safe, which he said he could not do as he did not know the combination. Jones and Perry were then gagged and bound with rope and an unsuccessful attempt was made by the robbers to force the safe's combination. Officers found Jones and Perry later.

MAE MURRAY SHINES IN "BROADWAY ROSE"

"Loves of Pharaoh" an Absorbing Story of Ancient Egypt, Produced on Gigantic Scale.

In "Broadway Rose," the week's attraction at the New Grand Central, West End Lyric and Capitol, Mae Murray has play with more dramatic content than the usual run of her offerings. As usual she has the opportunity to wear elaborate gowns and stunning wraps, but she has a chance to do more than show her capabilities as a manipulator. At times she is permitted to ruffle her fine feathers and rise to no inconsiderable heights of emotionalism.

Her role is that of the mere or less simple country girl who goes to the big city and becomes a famous cabaret dancer. This theme is not a novelty in the movies, but it is well worked out in this instance. There is a country suitor at home and a rich young man who woos her in the city. The dramatic climax is unusually strong for this type of film and there is a clever working out of the character of the urban lover, who wheedles the dancer into a secret marriage and then permits her to be snubbed and insulted by the aristocratic family.

The country suitor arrives on the scene in time to prevent a tragedy. The secret marriage is annulled and the dancer gives up her career at the behest of true love. The play is excellently cast and the settings are elaborate.

An added feature on the New Grand Central bill is the singing of Max Kaplick, former baritone of the Chicago Grand Opera Company, engaged for the current season as the principal support of Ganna Walska's concert tour.

The Loves of Pharaoh

The genius of Ernest Lubitsch, which he proved so brilliantly in "Passion," blossoms again in "The Loves of Pharaoh," a lavish spectacle on display at the Missouri Theater this week. If not quite equal to its illustrious predecessor in dramatic intensity it holds its own in comparison to epics of the past and setting. The personnel is numbered by the thousand. The walls of old Thebes rise in grim magnificence; Pharaoh's entourage paces stately pillared corridors—there is, in short, a rich atmosphere of haughty, cruel antiquity.

Of the inherent silliness of the title, there is no trace in the picture itself. The romance is of classic purity, and is never permitted to get in the way of the grand march events. One feels confident that the film, like previous Lubitsch pictures, left the European studio under a different name. The most obvious defect is the sudden performance of the actor cast as "Pharaoh," a remarkably stupid and apathetic monarch, considering that he breaks the laws of the Pharaohs, plunges his country into war and eventually loses his own life, for love of a slave girl.

The other side of the story is that of a girl, the daughter of a poor man, who is loved by the slave girl. But the main conflict of the action grows, not out of competition between a king and a youth—for Lubitsch is a greater artist than that—but from the clash of emotion with precedent and circumstance, the helplessness of a tyrant to obtain his one great wish.

There is a battle in the desert between Egyptians and Ethiopians; there is a graphic and bloody mutiny in the quarries, led by Rampho; there is the storming of Thebes by Samlak's Ethiopian hordes, and an ambush within the gates. The action is colorful and consecutive.

How ironic that in America, the home of motion pictures, the name that carries assurance of merit and genuineness, is the name of a Bohemian, Lubitsch.

The vibrant Priscilla Dean, with scenic environment, somewhat reminiscent of "The Sheik" and recent kindred productions, the film version of "Under Two Flags," which is the week's feature at the Liberty, depends for its effect upon the vibrant personality of the star, Priscilla Dean, in the role of "Cigarette."

Miss Dean dominates the big scenes and is successful in lifting a rather commonplace story to an interesting level.

The work of adaptation from Guidé's novel leaves much to be desired in the way of artistic plot development. In this respect it is hardly up to the level of an earlier production in which Theda Bara had the leading role. The story is that of a vivandiere with the French army in Arabia. She loves a pasha, but her beauty arouses the covetousness of an Arabian Sheikh who uses ruthless methods to capture her. There are some fine desert scenes.

Thrills With Johnny Hines.

"Sure Fire Flint," the week's attraction at the Belmonts is a swiftly moving photoplay with many thrilling situations and flashes of good comedy. The leading role is in the hands of Johnny Hines, who portrays a restless and reckless youth who flits from one job to another, constantly in search of a more hazardous occupation. Most of the scenes are laid along the Mexican border. The hero crosses the Rio Grande in an airplane. He falls in love with a girl, who is the daughter of a Mexican and has a series of amusing adventures. He extricates himself from some difficulties by his quick wit and from others by his ability to do daring stunts which thwart the Mexicans or excite their admiration. In the cast also are Effie Shannon, Robert Edison and J. Barney Sherry.

CHURCH TOPS MEMORIAL FUND

Subscriptions to Honor Founders of Compton Avenue Institution Total $60,000

Subscriptions totaling $60,000, or $2000 more than the $58,000 goal to have been subscribed to a memorial fund in commemoration of the founders and early members of the Washington and Compton Avenue Presbyterian Church, were announced in the anniversary sermon yesterday by the pastor, the Rev. Dr. Frank W. Sneed.

The plan, suggested last February by the Rev. Dr. Sneed, was to raise $1000 a year for each of the church's 58 years of existence. The fund has been raised by a gradual series of donations during the last eight months. A board of three trustees will be chosen to handle the money, the income from which will be used in furthering the church work.

A tablet bearing the names of many of the early members is to be placed in the hallway.

SLAM MEN TIED WITH WIRE

By the Associated Press.

PIKEVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 20.—That a band of six or seven unidentified men killed Jesse Rector, aged farmer; his son, York, and the latter's wife at their home in the mountains near Melvins, Blount County, Friday night, is the opinion of Sheriff A. T. Goforth on his return from the scene of the crime.

Tom Rector, another son of Jesse Rector and surviving member of the family, told the Sheriff that the three were murdered by a party of six or seven men.

Sheriff Goforth stated today that he had found Jesse and York Rector with their hands tied behind their backs with wire.

Dont envy the Capitalist—Be one!

A capitalist is one who believes in making some of his earnings work for him instead of using them all for his keep and for amusement.

If you have money in the bank at interest, you are a capitalist.

If you own a sound investment, large or small—a bond, a share in an enterprise, a mortgage—you are a capitalist.

If you have made your first payment on a home, you are a capitalist.

The person who hoards money secretly isn't a capitalist. His money isn't working. Money at work is capital. Idle money, like an idle person, doesn't earn anything.

One can earn a bare living with his hands; a better one with his hands and head—particularly when he uses his head to save some capital.

If dependent on mere wages, pay stops when work stops.

If one has capital, it works for him while he sleeps, when he is ill, and whether he has a job or not.

By constantly combining a portion of your earnings with interest on your capital, your fortune grows faster and faster. As success comes, you will look with pity on the fellow who spends all he earns while he rails at capitalists.

MEXICO SEEKS OIL LAW SUGGESTIONS FROM U. S.

Report That Officials Have Approached Charge D'Affaires Summerlin on Matter Confirmed.

By the Associated Press. MEXICO CITY, Nov. 28.—The statement authorized by Secretary of State Hughes, given out by the State Department in Washington Saturday to the effect that the Secretary had been given to understand that the State Department's comments on the proposed Mexican petroleum legislation would not be unwelcome, substantiates reports here that high Mexican officials several times have intimated to Mr. Summerlin, the American Charge d'Affaires, that suggestions by the United States Government relative to the regulations of Article 27 of the Constitution would aid in the framing of a measure acceptable to all concerned.

The text of the first note sent to Alberto J. Pani, the Foreign Secretary, by Summerlin, indicated that it was a personal communication. In it Summerlin said: "Confirming our conversation of last night, I have pleasure in sending you a copy of the draft of the organic law, which I understand is the latest to be drawn up."

From an authoritative source it has been learned that "last night's conversation" took place at a reception attended by Senor Pani and Summerlin, during which casual reference was made to the proposed legislation.

Summerlin is said to have told Senor Pani that he had a copy of the latest draft which he would gladly furnish the Mexican Foreign Office, which had not yet received it.

Notes termed "Medellane" Informal notes of Oct. 19 led to further unofficial exchanges between the Secretary and the Charge which have now been interpreted by the Mexican Government as "medellane," although there is reason to believe that the interchanges were due to an understanding that such suggestions would be appreciated.

The informal nature of the communications is indicated by the fact that one of Summerlin's memoranda was delivered to Senor Pani, by I. Lanier Winslow, First Secretary of the American Embassy, at a reception held at the Brazilian embassy.

In official circles it is believed the Mexican Government has materially strengthened its hold on its Congress by the publication of the communications. Factions which have held varying views on oil legislation for the regulation of article 27 apparently have abandoned their desires in an effort to present a united front against what is described as undue and unwarranted interference by the United States in the internal affairs of Mexico.

The belief was expressed today that the administration will be able to secure the adoption of whatever legislation it deems necessary and that its bill regulating article 27 will be approved without difficulty.

NEW PROSECUTOR
MAY GET INTO COUNTY INQUIRY

Attorney-General Considering Appointing Jones Special Assistant Prior to His Taking Office.

SUGGESTION BY TWO ATTORNEYS

Laughlin and Brackman Offer to Co-operate, With Prosecutor-Elect in Preparation for Trials.

Attorney-General Barrett is considering the appointment of Adam Henry Jones, Prosecuting Attorney-elect of St. Louis County, who will take office Jan. 1, as a special assistant Attorney-General to take the places of Randolph Laughlin and Amandus Brackman, who have been co-operating with Prosecuting Attorney Mueller in the grand jury investigation of frauds in the primary election of Aug. 1, and gambling.

Laughlin and Brackman today asked Attorney-General Barrett to accept their resignations, because they believe Jones should have opportunity to familiarize himself with the evidence going before the grand jury, that he might be better prepared for prosecution in event of indictments.

Attorneys' Suggestions.

Laughlin and Brackman suggested that one of the men whom Jones will have as an assistant might also be made a special assistant Attorney-General. They sent Attorney-General Barrett the following letter:

"Adam Henry Jones, who has been elected Prosecuting Attorney in St. Louis County, will take office on Jan. 1, and one of his first duties will be the prosecuting of those indicted by the grand jury in St. Louis County.

"We, of course, do not know who is to be indicted, but much evidence has been collected and we believe it will justify and require the return of many indictments in addition to those already voted. If Mr. Jones and one of his assistants could have the benefit of introducing this evidence to the grand jury and in that way become familiar with the personality of the witnesses, we believe he would find it a great help in a successful prosecution of the cases. To find the way to give this help is the purpose of this letter.

Praise for Mueller.

"Fred Mueller personally has been 100 per cent all through this inquiry. We have found him at work in his office at Clayton as early as 7:30 in the morning. He realized from the beginning that the volume of work to be done was such as to justify and require all the help you could give him, and he has at all times welcomed our aid and co-operated with us in every possible way. Immediately on receipt of the news of Mr. Jones' election he offered him his congratulations, assistance and co-operation, and threw his office open to his use. His absence from the county prevents him from joining with us in this letter, but we understand that his office is to be conducted on a nonpartisan basis and that two of his assistants will be Republicans. It is now only a little over a month before they will take office, and we feel that they ought to have the help and experience you can give them in that time.

"If you share our views please accept this letter as our joint resignation, to take effect just as soon as Mr. Jones and his designated assistant qualify to take up the work where we leave off.

"We will be glad to go over the evidence with them in detail, surrender our files, ballot and other documentary evidence into their possession, and thereafter continue to render them such unofficial assistance as remains in our power. We feel that it needs no persuasion from us to convince you that our sole solicitude is for the cause of good government in St. Louis County, and to that end a Prosecuting Attorney equipped with all the experience and advantage of personal contact with witnesses that the interim between now and Jan. 1 can give him.

"Fred Tate and Paul Toelle have been of invaluable assistance in collecting evidence and locating witnesses, and if Mr. Jones can learn to rely on them as we have, we feel that benefit alone will have been well worth whatever sacrifice may be involved in giving up our work before we have fully completed it."

Preventable Accidents

The following terse statement made by an eminent railroad authority is printed as a part of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad's campaign of information about railroads, their operation and their problems.

"Nobody was ever struck by a railway engine except on a railway track, or, at any rate, so near to it that he or she was on its preserve. Between the rails of a railroad there are, ordinarily, just four feet eight inches and a half, and the balance of the unsafe space does not exceed three feet—yet with all the rest of the world to stand and walk on, some eleven thousand people find it necessary to end their days, or their health, on this narrow strip of land."

Remember that railroads, while employing every safety-first prevention and constantly cautioning their employees against carelessness, must have your thoughtful co-operation in the prevention of accidents.

Stop—Look—and Listen
at railroad crossings—and stay off railroad tracks.

Old Kings in New Jobs

Before the War we loved to read about thrones and palaces and glittering jewels. Suddenly they all dropped out of sight. What are the royal families doing now? What do people think of them? What do they say about themselves? Frederick L. Collins went to Europe to find out these things for you. Read his "What's Happened to Royalty" one of five special articles in the Woman's Home Companion for December.

The Play You Must Not Miss

Every month the Woman's Home Companion registers its endorsement of the most distinguished play just opening in New York. In the new December number see "The Old Sock" by Don Marquis, with stage portraits of Clem Hawley, Nellie, the hired girl, and her friend Al. Besides seven other pages of attractive pictures in the alcogravure section there are pages in bright color—brilliant as the original oil paintings.

Things No Bachelor Can Resist

No bachelor, they say, can resist the cheerful wreath-in-the-window Christmas atmosphere. But to make sure of it, every girl must be able to tie up packages and sing carols and mix mince pies all day and still have her eyes bright and her complexion smooth. See "How to be Good Looking though it's Christmas," in the December Woman's Home Companion. "Good Looks" is one of the nine helpful departments in every number.

Trail-Blazers of the Drama

Women who stage little plays for their own clubs are blazing the trail from coast to coast for progress in new American drama. What guest is more welcome than one who will tell you of a score of entertainments your club can give. Club programs of every variety, artistic and individualized, are carefully worked out for you in Constance D'Arcy Mackay's "Modern Revels" in the new Woman's Home Companion.

All Christmas in One Book

You will find the December Woman's Home Companion an absolutely complete guide for your Christmas. Things to make, buy, play, wear, eat, cook, sing, give, do. ## PROSECUTOR SAYS GOVERNOR FREED MAN TO KILL HIM

Convict Was to Attend Trial of Robertson, Okmulgee County Attorney Charges, in Petition.

"DAMNABLE LIE," EXECUTIVE SAYS

Hearing Today on Fight Against Change of Venue to Ada—Hepburn Wants Trial "in Safe Place."

By the Associated Press. OKMULGEE, Nov. 20.—Another chapter in the prosecution of Gov. J. B. A. Robertson is being written in court here today, where District Judge Thomas A. Edwards of Cordell is hearing County Attorney James Hepburn's motion to set aside the change of venue to the bribery case against the State's chief executive, granted Friday by District Judge Lucien B. Wright.

Partisan feeling has run high here since Friday, with the belief current it has been indicated, that today's hearing will be the final episode of the Governor's case to be presented here. The case was opened last January in the midst of sensational charges, and each new development has been followed closely.

Judge Edwards was appointed by the State Supreme Court Friday to replace in the proceedings Judge Mark L. Bozarth, against whom the Governor's mandamus action was upheld in September in the high court.

Judges in Same District. The appointment was made within a few hours after Judge Wright had dramatically taken matters into his own hands and granted the change of venue to Ada, Ok., and set the case for hearing Wednesday. Both Judges Wright and Bozarth are in the Twenty-second Judicial District, and Judge Wright held he was qualified to hear the motion after Judge Bozarth had been ruled out.

The County Attorney alleges that he was not given notice the motion for change of venue was to be heard Friday and that he did not expect it to be heard until the Supreme Court had designated a Judge to act. His petition to set aside the change of venue makes the sensational charge that Gov. Robertson recently freed a murder convict from the State penitentiary to attend the Governor's trial and "kill the County Attorney of Okmulgee County," and he asks that, if a change of venue is granted, the case be set for trial at some point where "the life of said County Attorney . . . can and will be protected."

"Damnable Lie," Says Governor. Hepburn also charges that Judge Wright was not qualified to hear the change of venue motion because of alleged collusion with the Governor and because of an alleged bribe he states the Judge has been accused of taking to settle the case.

Gov. Robertson yesterday denied the accusations of Hepburn's petition, which was filed in District Court Saturday night. He termed the allegation that he freed a prisoner "to kill the County Attorney" a "dastardly and damnable lie," made at this time for the sole and only purpose of trying to create public sentiment against me on the eve of my case going to trial at Ada."

Bitter Charges Mark Case. The course of Gov. Robertson's case has been marked with bitter and sensational charges and counter charges. The indictment, which alleges acceptance of a bribe to allow a defunct Okmulgee bank to continue in operation, was returned here last March, only after one Judge had dismissed a grand jury which, it was alleged, was on the point of returning an indictment, and left town. The indictment was returned in another court. The Governor appeared to make bond, guarded by officers of the Oklahoma National Guard. Charges that the Ku Klux Klan had a part in bringing about the indictment were made by the Governor when he filed a petition in the State Supreme Court for the mandatory removal of Judge Mark L. Bozarth, in whose court the instrument was returned, from further connection with the case. The mandamus was granted.

"We have recognized, since we heard the mandamus action, that a change of venue would 'lie' in the case," said Chief Justice Harrison. "But we had expected to appoint the Judge to hear it."

Hepburn's Charges. In lodging his allegations that the State's chief executive released a prisoner from the penitentiary "to kill the County Attorney of Okmulgee County," Hepburn said in his petition:

"Your affiant is informed and believes and therefore alleges the fact to be that on or about the seventh day of June, 1922, one Burch, whose first name is to affiant unknown, was serving a sentence in the penitentiary at McAlester, Ok., for the crime of murder; that on said date said Burch was paroled from the said penitentiary by this defendant and your affiant is informed and believes the consideration for said parole was that said Burch would be present at the trial of this case and kill the County Attorney of Okmulgee County; that your affiant

Judgeship Not Likely to Be Filled for Two Weeks, Senator Spencer Says.

Post-Dispatch Bureau, 20 Wyatt Building.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Senator Spencer, in Washington today for the opening of the special session of Congress, said that he did not expect the two Missouri Federal judgeships, recently created by Congress, to be filled in less than two or three weeks.
The investigation made by Assistant Attorney General Rush L. Holland of the qualifications of candidates for the post in the Eastern District had strengthened the chances of Circuit Judge Vital W. Garcesche of St. Louis, he said. He reiterated the belief that Garcesche would be appointed. In the Western District he thought that the choice would fall on A. H. Reeves.
For the position of Collector of Customs at St. Louis, now held by Fountain Richman, Senator Spencer said that he had endorsed L. M. Hall of St. Louis. He named B. W. Clark of St. Louis as another aspirant for this place.

Aspirants for Marshalship.
Candidates for the United States marshalship at St. Louis, Senator Spencer said, included Dr. E. S. Brown of Edinna; L. W. Casey of Potosi, and William Seibel, clerk of the Court of St. Louis County, who is being fought by the St. Louis County Clean Election League. The Senator said that he had not endorsed any of the candidates, but that all their names were before the Department of Justice for consideration.
A large field of candidates, Spencer added, is out for the post of United States District Attorney of the Eastern District to succeed the Democratic incumbent, James E. Carroll. Among the aspirants as listed by Spencer are W. P. Elmer of Salem; Berryman Henwood of Hannibal; Bidgett Priest of St. Louis and Nat M. Lacy of Macon.
Though the commissions of the Democrats now serving as Marshal, Collector and District Attorney have not yet expired, Senator Spencer said that in each case the incumbent, or the incumbent and his predecessor, had served eight years and therefore he felt the places should be opened to Republican appointees. He added, however, that he would not press for immediate changes.

PROSECUTOR SAYS GOVERNOR FREED MAN TO KILL HIM

prays this Court that in case a change of venue should be granted from Oklahoma County that said cause be transferred to some county in Oklahoma for trial where the life of said County Attorney of Oklahoma County, Ok., can and will be protected.

Attacking Judge Wright as having been unqualified to hear the motion for the change of venue, the County Attorney's petition contained this statement:

"The said Lucien B. Wright, District Judge of Creek County, is the same Lucien B. Wright who was charged in the Supreme Court of Oklahoma and in other places throughout Oklahoma and particularly in the Twenty-second Judicial District with having contracted to accept a bribe of $100,000 in the Page case while the said case was pending in the District Court of Creek County."

Attack on Attorney.
In an attack on the attorney for the Governor, who presented the motion for change of venue, Hepburn's petition alleges:

"And the said L. O. Lytle, attorney-at-law, of Sapulpa, Ok., is the same L. O. Lytle who was charged in the Supreme Court in the State of Oklahoma and in other places throughout Oklahoma, particularly in the Twenty-second Judicial District, with having negotiated said bribe and transaction with Lucien B. Wright and with having paid said Lucien B. Wright $100,000 advance payment of said bribe of $100,000, with the understanding and agreement, according to the allegations made in the Supreme Court of Oklahoma, that the balance of said bribe, to wit, $90,000 would be paid to the said Lucien B. Wright when he decided said cause in the District Court of Creek County against the said Charles Page and his interests and in favor of the said L. O. Lytle and his clients and their interests."

Says Burch Is Not a Murderer.
Albert Burch, the convict in the case, is not a murderer, as intimated by Hepburn, but was serving a term for larceny and was granted a leave of absence from the prison upon the representations of officers of the United Mine Workers of America. G. L. Grant, Fort Smith, Ark., attorney who represents District 21 of the union, said here today. He is here as a witness in the Governor's case.
"Burch is a strong union man, and John Wilkinson, president; E. F. Ross, secretary-treasurer, and Mike Brothers, board member of District 21, interested themselves in his behalf," said Grant. "The best I could do was to obtain a leave of absence for Burch. He has been working part of the time since his release for a coal mine in Oklahoma County in control of Harlan Road. Mr. Road was one of the men who was favorable to a release of Burch."
"It is not true that Burch is a murderer. Larceny was the charge against him. His term is to expire in December of this year, the original sentence being 15 years, if I remember correctly."
"Burch was sent up from Pittsburg County, Ok. There was no secret about his leave of absence. The legal notice was published in a Hartshorne paper."

Minister's Book Attacking Doctrines of the Christian Religion Widely Discussed

Review of Treatise in Entirety Doesn't Justify Complaint of Author That First Reviews Gave False Impression.

One of the most widely noticed and discussed books of the time, on a religious subject, "Confessions of an Old Priest," by the Rev. S. D. McConnell, for 50 years a minister of the Protestant Episcopal Church, a copy of the book, which is published by the Macmillan Co., has been sent to the Post-Dispatch for review. Dr. McConnell has complained of some news notices of the book which have appeared, and which were of necessity fragmentary. An examination of the whole work does not indicate that those notices conveyed any false impression of the tenor of the book.

There are, however, two important passages of the book which are not touched upon in the first notices. One is the statement that the Christian religion is not, as is commonly believed and taught, the culmination and outgrowth of Judaism. The other contention, which is the first, is that the Christian religion, and the Christian Church, were built upon Greek and other so-called pagan originals.

Some Masterpieces Ignored.

In his attempt to separate the belongings of Christianity from Judaism, the author appears to ignore or omit the masterpieces of Old Testament poetry and literature. "Of course," he writes, "Hebrew literature contains passages of spiritual elevation and deep insight; every literature does." It might be replied that "every literature" does not contain the psalms of David, the poetry of the book of Job, the lyric strains of Isaiah and the majestic narrative style of the eighteenth chapter of Kings—or anything to compare with them.

To quote from Dr. McConnell's work further, these passages may be taken as representative:

"One of the strangest things in the Bible is the way in which an idea, once having got lodgment in the mind of the multitude, becomes part of its mental furniture. The acceptance of Christianity with Judaism is one of such notions.

Church Grew in Heathen Soil.

The epistle of the faith of all the contemporaries of Jesus, the Gospels were the least advanced in official apprehension; that they were inoperative to His spirit; that their whole organization moved to the aid of Him; that the Gospels were the fruits of Christianity quickly derived and perished in the inflexible soil of Palestine; that from the beginning the church grew in heathen soil and gained its membership from those heathen peoples—in spite of all this we accept as religious truth the tribal laws of John that 'salvation is of the Jews.' We hold as sacrosanct and read in worship their faltering words, their hymns and prayers with aspirations for the peace of Israel, and sing 'Jerusalem the Golden.' We give highest honor to their far from admirable heroes and such our children about them; we beg education the unintelligent masses of the world; we identify Jesus with their incomprehensible Messiah, even though we think of Him under His Greek attributes of the Christ. The explanation of the paradox probably is that Christianity is a quasi-historical belief, the artificial system of the day spun by the church in the third and fourth centuries. Without the plan of salvation would appear for what it is, a cunningly devised and standing on no historic foundation. So it will no doubt go on for a long time to come. The force of inertia acts in the religious as well as in the secular sphere."

In another passage, the writer says:

"Our religious ancestry is not to be traced through the line of Abraham. The religious conception of the modern world derive from the Jews, and not from the Jew. The same remains for the Jew, stupid and morally world from first to last. Having become possessed with the 'chosen' concept of being a 'chosen' people, it drew apart in arrogant isolation and perished in its own pride. Its prophets prophesied in vain. Even in their most exalted passages there is a strain of abnormality, if not madness."

Denies Credit Given Jews.

Dr. McConnell even denies in the book the credit given them by almost universal consent, of having proclaimed the belief in one God.

"In reality," he says, "it was in chaotic heathen world that the deepest aspirations of the soul were kindled and finding expression. It was among them that the foundation of all religion, the unity of God, was first discerned. It is an error to credit the Hebrew with this discovery. The Jew, even the prophet, was never more than a heathenish deliverer in one supreme deity and other minor ones. His 'one' God was such only in the sense that he was the only one of his kind. The Jew of power, not of being. The philosopher, not of truth. The man nearly when he found a central unity in the universe and called it the Generative Reason, the Divine Word, the Logos."

BOTH SIDES REJECT STANDARDIZATION OF MINERS' WAGES

U. S. Coal Commission's Proposals Are Impracticable, Committees of Operators and Workers Declare.

"TOO MANY MINES IN THIS COUNTRY NOW"

Union Against Closing Any Now in Operation—Regulation by Competition Regarded as Key.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Anthracite mine operators have sent to the Federal Coal Commission responses to the preliminary questionnaire which that body sent out in beginning its work of ascertaining facts as to the coal industry, while at the same time a committee of United Mine Workers, representing employees in both bituminous and anthracite regions, have made public the union's conclusions upon some of the same points.

On one important point, arising from the commission's request for views as to the possibility of standardizing mine wages and units of output from mines, both committees agreed in rejecting the proposals as impracticable. They were also in substantial agreement in treating a second proposal of the commission, regarding the possibility of closing down high-cost mines in order to maintain production from more economic mines, the anthracite employers declaring the general scarcity of anthracite required continuation of operations in every mine in respect to the commission's suggestion to standardize the level of living for miners, while the union committee indicated disfavor.

"How this commission can hope to standardize the cost of living without at the same time standardizing the level of living of mine workers is a question which the union committee is unable to answer," the letter said. "It seems to us it would be impossible to standardize the cost of living unless each individual mine worker were required to accept and adopt a standard of living for himself and his family. Any attempt to establish such a standard would outstrip any system, either paternalistic or communistic, that we know of."

Varying Conditions.

"We do not believe it is possible to standardize the amount of work a man can or should perform in the production of coal. Conditions vary in every mine. Seams of coal vary in thickness. Some miners experience difficulty with water and methods in use in one place would be impossible in another. Each mine is peculiar to itself as far as working conditions are concerned."

"What might be regarded as a standard of work in one place would be a flagrant misfit in another."

It was suggested by the mine workers' committee, however, that the commission, through women investigators, should determine actual expenditures on living by miners and their families. The effect of organization upon the cost of living, it also was suggested, should be ascertained by direct application to persons concerned, and so far as the union was concerned the committee promised complete access to any information desired.

RULING GIVEN ON ROAD FUNDS FROM MOTOR VEHICLE LICENSES

Legislative Appropriation Necessary, Assistant Attorney-General Holds.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Nov. 20.—The State Highway Commission today was informed in an opinion by Assistant Attorney-General Henry Davis that the Legislature will have to appropriate the surplus funds remaining in the State Road Fund from sale of motor vehicle licenses, after requirements of the interest and sinking fund on the $60,000,000 road bonds are met, before any of that surplus can be expended for road maintenance. The highway commissioners thought that amendment No. 3 to the State Constitution, which is believed to have been adopted at the election Nov. 1, enabled the immediate use of such funds without legislative action.

Davis' opinion says the amendment limits the Legislature "by directing it to prescribe by law the manner of the use of the surplus or remainder of the fund for the purposes only of constructing roads and bridges and maintaining roads." The limiting of the use of funds to a revenue purpose or object is not an appropriation of them. It is left to the Legislature to control the remaining fund mentioned in amendment No. 3, subject to the limitations thereof laid down, namely, that they must be used to construct roads or bridges or to maintain roads. The amendment does not authorize the State Highway Commission to spend those funds, but it is a mandate to the Legislature to direct their use to the purposes therein mentioned. It accords the Legislature to "prescribe by law" the manner of their use.

New Caliph a Patron of Arts, Painter and Music Composer

Abdul Medjid, Son of Sultan Abdul Aziz, Has but One Wife, and Has Not Taken Part in Politics.

By the Associated Press.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 20.—Crown Prince Abdul Medjid, who was elected Caliph by the Great National Assembly of Turkey on Saturday, will be inducted into office at the Topkapu Palace today.

Abdul Medjid received 148 votes of a total of 153. The new Caliph telegraphed his acceptance, reserving certain limited temporal powers.

Abdul is the son of Sultan Abdul Aziz, and is 54 years old. He is described as learned in literature, a patron of the arts, an accomplished painter and composer of music. He always has been closely identified with the Nationalist movement and is credited with a strong will. Friends say he will not be content to remain merely the religious head of Islam, but will insist upon exercising temporal powers.

Unlike most Turks of high station, he has only one wife and has lived modestly and quietly, not mingling in politics. He has a daughter and a son, the latter married to a daughter of Mohammed VI, the deposed Sultan.

The newly elected Caliph gave the following statement to the Associated Press:

"I feel deeply the confidence my people have reposed in me. All my life I have had unshakable faith in the progress of Turkey and in her deference from the foreign yoke. I have been closely bound up in my people even in the darkest days."

"My sole desire today is to be a faithful servant of Islam and my people. I will approve of all the decisions of the National Assembly. It is sad to speak of the Sultan's flight. By his action he has lost his throne but he has become an outcast from our family."

"Let us look forward to the future and forget the past."

from operation by any sort of selective process," the committee added.

"Therefore we have no suggestions as to the possibility of the possibility of closing down any number of mines, unless this end can be brought about through encouragement of competition. In order that such competition might be encouraged we suggest that every effort should be made to improve transportation facilities."

Advise Against New Mines.

"We do believe, however, and we recommend to this commission, that some means be found to prevent the opening up of any new mines in the United States, at least for a considerable period. There are too many mines in this country now."

With the "standardization of cost of living" and "work output" suggestions of the commission, the union committee indicated disfavor.

"How this commission can hope to standardize the cost of living without at the same time standardizing the level of living of mine workers is a question which the union committee is unable to answer," the letter said. "It seems to us it would be impossible to standardize the cost of living unless each individual mine worker were required to accept and adopt a standard of living for himself and his family. Any attempt to establish such a standard would outstrip any system, either paternalistic or communistic, that we know of."

Season Most Unusual.

"The season has been the most unusual in the history of the Mississippi River," Gen. Beach said. "First there was a flood stage, approaching a record. This was followed by a precipitous drop to a record low level. The result was a deposit of silt at so many crossings that the dredge equipment of the river was overtaxed. Usually there are so-called 'pop' rises, which enable the river to scour out many of the bars, but even the June rise was absent this year and the river did not scour out the bars as usual. The result was that for a period the channel was closed to boats of the river service. It is now open and I believe will remain open."

Program of Co-operation.

"Col. Ashburn and myself, in our inspection of the portion of the channel in which the most difficulty occurred, a stretch of not more than five miles just north of Memphis, have agreed on a program of co-operation between the engineers and the operators of the barge line which we feel certain will prevent any further channel difficulty."

The inspection of Gen. Beach and Col. Ashburn was in company with the Mississippi River Commission, which has immediate responsibility for maintenance of the channel. They left the commission's steamer, the Mississippi, here. The commission members departed last night for New Orleans to complete their annual inspection tour.

LOUISIANA SEEKS FEDERAL AID IN FIGHT ON K. K. K.

Gov. Parker and State Attorney-General Confer With President and Daugherty on Klan Activities.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Activities of the Ku Klux Klan were the subject of a White House conference today between President Harding and Attorney-General Daugherty and Gov. Parker and Attorney-General Cocco of Louisiana. The conference was at the request of the Governor, who seeks Federal co-operation in curbing alleged interstate operations of the Klan.

The State authorities of Louisiana appear at this time to be fully capable of handling any situation within their jurisdiction growing out of activities of secret organizations or other agencies, it was declared in a statement issued at the White House today after the conference.

In view of the efficiency of the State authorities, the White House statement said, "there is nothing at this time for the Federal Government to do except to give assurance to the State authorities that whenever Federal interests are involved the Federal authorities are ready to extend full co-operation."

Gov. Parker, upon leaving the White House, also issued a statement in which he said:

"The responsible government of the State is determined that, regardless of cost or consequence, a most thorough investigation will be made of the outrages reported to have been committed by the Ku Klux Klan in Louisiana."

Fixing Responsibility "Vital."

"Certain terrifying outrages have been committed; certain horrifying crimes have been reported, and it is vital that responsibility shall be fixed and offenders fixed not because of any organized association, but in spite of this."

"The law of state and nation must be upheld under any and all circumstances."

The Governor said he would remain in Washington until tomorrow.

Influence on State Officers.

Before going to the White House the Louisiana Governor and the Attorney-General had a long conference with William J. Burns, chief of the Bureau of Investigation of the Department of Justice. It was understood that they laid before Burns information concerning the reported influence exerted by the Klan among county and other officers of their State.

In investigating the disappearance some weeks ago of Samuel Richards and Watt Daniels from Moorehouse Parish, La., Gov. Parker was said to have found the efforts to ascertain the facts had been hindered by certain county officers. His inquiry in that direction, it was stated officially, led him to believe that there was an interstate connection with which he was not possible for him to deal. It was this phase of the question which he has taken up with the Federal authorities.

Richards and Daniels disappeared suddenly after Dr. E. M. McKoon, Mayor of Monroe, had been fired upon from ambush and slightly injured.

Ku Klux Klan Recruiting Carried Into Calvary Baptist Church, New York.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Ku Klux Klan organizers recently, has been carried into Calvary Baptist Church, one of the denomination's leading churches, of which the Rev. John Roach Straton is pastor. This the New York World established, and as a result of leaflets handed out in the church two reporters sat through a Klan recruiting meeting presided over by a klanman in full regalia. It was held in an undarkened establishment.

Klan activities in the church have been ascribed by those who have come in contact with them to the inspiration of the Rev. Oscar Haywood, general evangelist of the church. He has been for the last month on a fresh-air farm he established in Mount Gilead, N. C. The New York World sent an inquiry to him there, and in response received from him the following telegram:

"It is true, I am interested and actively engaged in the work of propagating the Ku Klux Klan in New York City. In it I am just as zealous as I was in the work of endorsing the Calvary Baptist Church four years ago."

"Ally of Protestant Church."

"The Ku Klux Klan will be the ally of every Protestant church, every patriotic society, every home in New York City. In those sections where the Protestant churches have died it will spring up and live. It is the most dauntless organization known to men."

FRANCE GAVE A COLD FAREWELL TO CLEMENCEAU, HER "MAN OF THE TREATY"

Former Premier, in America to Try to Reinter-est Uncle Sam in His Country, Is Almost Without a Following.

By FERDINAND TUBHY.

(Paris correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World, who accompanied M. Clemenceau to the United States.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Shortly after the steamship Paris steamed out of Havre on the anniversary of Armistice day a week ago I paid my respects to M. Clemenceau in his stateroom. The aged man was alone, reading. His Armistice day had consisted of an automobile rush through wind and rain from Paris to the coast, of an informal luncheon on board, attended by one or two faithful henchmen, and of cabin seclusion for the rest of the day.

That was Georges Clemenceau's fourth November the 11th, the day once consecrated to him as "Père la Victoire" ("Père la Victoire"). The day when once he mounted the tribune of the Chamber of Deputies, acclaimed by a whole assembly almost in tears while the guns of Paris boomed without. The day when once—greatest tribute—his name had been inscribed on the walls of the schools of France as one who had deserved well of his country.

Seated in his cabin four years afterwards, he might have been a Bellerophon for all the farewell France, land of which he had deserved so well, had given him that anniversary morning. The one touch of farewell, a silver-laced local official, cocked hat under arm, and murmuring sweet nothings on behalf of M. Poincaré, may have even wounded a normally unwounded "Tiger." It certainly stressed, however, the astonishing "round-about-turn," the fickleness, not to use a stronger term, of which articulate France is capable.

The Cold Shoulder.

The cold shoulder was complete. Clemenceau had become the target of pent-up passion, animosity and hatred that had become choked in some cases for two generations. The chorus of abuse and satire seemed to come equally from Left and Right, from the two Frances, Blue France (Liberal Socialist) and White France (Bloc National). His treaty had proved an abject failure in French eyes. Blue France would loosen its cords; White France would annex the Rhine. After dusk black night had descended on Middle Europe Clemenceau.

It is the fact that Clemenceau comes to the United States unrepresented by any important section or movement of contemporary French politics. He had a minuscule following in the Chamber, headed by the ever-faithful Tardieu (who may be said to have ruined his career with just a chance of stirring triumph). He possessed one paper, the Echo Nationale, and has two others of the first consequence supporting him, the Petit Parisien and the Echo de Paris. Beyond that, one looks vainly for other evidence of life and once teaming with the paper, the Echo Nationale, the only two parties in the state, Blue France and White France, being set against the "Tiger."

Perhaps Americans may profit themselves by upon Georges Clemenceau is going to say and write for their benefit in the ensuing four weeks if they gain fuller comprehension of the precise reactions of these two Frances toward their dauntless old patriot.

France's Criticism.

First, there is Blue or Liberal-Radical-Socialist-Callaunist-Left France—the France that is expected to win the next election. Clemenceau's policy should events hold on anything resembling their present course. This France recoils the fine fighter for advanced liberalism that Clemenceau was in the 80s; recoils how he overthrew such opponents as Gambetta, Ferry and Brisson, only to counter an obstinate personal reaction on the part of President Grevy to call him to the Premiership; recoils, too, the triple crown that Clemenceau won with Zola and Jaures in the vindication of Dreyfus. But then it goes on to reason somewhat in this strain:

"When at last you were called to power, as a sexagenarian, you proved harsh and out of harmony with your times, an apostle of Darwin and Spencer and still the patriot Jacobin of your 20s. Ignorant of social and economic questions, of a crushing egotism, you failed to understand the suffering of the masses."

Of Clemenceau's great years, 1914-1919, the Liberal Left criticizes his method of "hurling mud at all and sundry in order to gain office," pranks with everybody else his wonderful reinvigoration of the beaten French armies, but refuses to countenance his ruthless tramping under foot of all who stood in his way, notably Joseph Caillaux, "whose arrogant he would have signed cheerfully."

The Versailles Conference.

But the real criticism of Liberal France naturally dates from the Versailles conference presided over by "this aged soul void of hope, with ill-humors, France, and one dullard, humanity, commencing with the French and his own colleagues." ## Standard Oil Dividends.

I HAVE just had an opportunity of reading your very interesting editorial of Oct. 13 entitled "Undeclared Standard Oil." I wish it were possible to sit down with the writer of this editorial and submit to questions that would bring out his viewpoint. The crux of his argument seems to be the premise that this company has enjoyed fabulous returns. Granted that it is fair to accept his suggestion that prices should be reduced to consumers.

Actually, the Standard Oil Company (N. J.) has not enjoyed any fabulous returns. It has been the consistent policy of the company to plow in its earnings for the most part rather than to distribute them to the owner. The consequence of that has been to increase assets far out of proportion to the certificates representing ownership. Now a dividend has been declared to more nearly bring in line the capitalization and investment represented.

In the past ten years this company has earned less than 13 per cent per annum on its investment. I do not believe you would characterize that as an excessive profit on a business of an essentially speculative character. I do not believe, for instance, that such a percentage is regarded as sufficient for another speculative enterprise such as you are engaged in.

I am taking the liberty of sending you an explanation of the stock dividend in the hope that it will reach the hands of the writer of this thoughtful editorial.

Grapes of Gold.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE POST-DISPATCH.
CALIFORNIA was first reported to have defeated the State enforcement act. It was not until the belated returns from the rural districts came in—a matter of days after election—that the rapid enforcers won. And the professional prohibitionists, depressed by the many reverses suffered, doubtless plucked up courage when California finally landed on the dry side.

This California decision may need explaining to people not familiar with the facts. A great grape-growing State, it might reasonably be thought, would be opposed to prohibition; at least, would favor the return of legal rights, as a matter of fact, the vineyardists of California place prohibition above the pocketbook.

In principle first and pelf a poor second. Pelf, be it said, is the truth in the wine. For prohibition, the grape growers of California were voting for their pocketbooks. Prohibition has created a new and most lucrative market for grapes. Prices have reached unprecedented figures. The demand is insatiable. Why? Because prohibition has started and is keeping the home free burning. And that is not all of the story. In the old days the growers of wine grapes were at the mercy of the vintners. That was as true in Ohio as in California. The vintners did not tote square. They hogged the deal. Now they are out of business and, so far as the grape growers are concerned, they will stay out of business. Why should the grape growers want a change in the present illicit status when every little homestead has a wine press of its own and the fruit of the vine has become—rather literally—as apples of gold?

Everything is lovely in the vineyards and the profits are immense. No wonder the grape growers of California drink to prohibition in bumper of champagne. They can afford to do it.

Nine Rabs for Davis.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE POST-DISPATCH.
YOUR staff of humorists is a wonder. Davis, McDanna, Lardner, Fitzpatrick, Fisher, Fox, Briggs, Martyn, Loeb, Dirks and all the rest. Such a galaxy of splendid, flashing, scintillating intellects is rare in the realm of journalism. Where did you get them, and how do you keep them? Davis heads the list, in my opinion, with no reflection on the others. It is a mystery to me how anybody can originate such a prodigious quantity of excellent material. Furthermore, his "rabs" is a perfect type of joyous good nature. Let him dissent from this who will. I'll hold the same opinion still.

FANCY.

The Gas Rate.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE POST-DISPATCH.
IT seems strange that a paper as great as the St. Louis Post-Dispatch does not make a strong fight against the proposal of the Laclede Gas Co. in their plea to retain the present gas rates. It seems as though our City Attorney takes very little interest in the matter. The claims that they make for charging the present rates seem ridiculous. If the Post-Dispatch does not fight such battles for the St. Louis people, then we are hopeless in a hopeless city.

A POST-DISPATCH ENTHUSIAST.

THE PASSING OF NEWBERRY.

Senator Newberry has taken the easiest way out of his unpleasant predicament. He seeks the shelter of private obscurity from the impending storm over the villainy which seated him, in the face of the corruption which elected him, by resigning from the Senate. His letter of resignation is as offensive in tone as his original offense was criminal in fact. He assumes a pose of righteous martyrdom and endeavors to put all who condemned his seating in the light of vicious persecutors of a patriot, when he knows, as everyone else knows, that his avenues of escape from punishment and reputation were legal technicalities and partisan unscrupulousness, which ignored the actual facts proving the corruption by which he obtained his certificate of election. He added falsehood to corruption.

Newberry has served the purpose for which he was tolerated in the Senate and finally seated as a reward by the old guard for value received in votes. His vote enabled the Republican party to organize and control the Senate when control was necessary to the success of the conspiracy to undo Woodrow Wilson and destroy his splendid plan to guarantee world peace. Newberry was the instrument by which the conspirators utilized corruption to gain their partisan ends.

What of the Senators who shamelessly made use of Newberry and his corrupt methods of election? Why shouldn't the men who voted the disgraceful Senate resolution which, while condemning Newberry's offense as disgraceful and a menace to good government and American institutions, vindicated and rewarded the offender by seating him in the Senate, follow Newberry into private life? Some have been retired by the votes of their constituents and doubtless all will be in good time, but the resignations of the remnant who remain would become more than any act of their senatorial careers. The cloak of resignation would be an attractive garment on our Senator Spencer, who was the chosen and enthusiastic leader of the whitewash brigade. He wielded the brush with a verve and abandon which made him a shining mark of conscienceless folly.

Newberry's brief and shameful career has not been without value to the American people. He has been a conspicuous example of the menace of money in politics and of the evil it may do. He has been the occasion of the coining of a word which signifies the unconscious insolence of conscious wealth applied to the control of the electorate in a democracy. Newberryism will be a warning signal for all time. The exemplar of political corruption passes, but the example remains.

EQUAL RIGHTS IN PRACTICE.

In pursuit of its avowed policy to bring about as far as possible an absolute equality between men and women, the National Women's party lobbied through the last session of Congress an amendment to our naturalization laws abrogating the provision under which a woman, upon her marriage, takes the nationality of her husband. There was great rejoicing over this initial "victory," particularly as it promised substance to the more expansive program of reform held in reserve.

Word now comes from the American consulate in London, however, that there is very little rejoicing among dozens of distracted women applying there daily for passports for America with their American husbands, only to be turned away because of this new law. The principal victims are, of course, alien women who have married Americans and who, under law that is practically universal elsewhere, have lost their native nationality. When they apply for passports they find that they are not only not American citizens but have ceased to be English, French, German, Italian or other nationals, as the case might be; the great emancipation which the National Women's party brought about has left them absolutely freed from all allegiance, and from all governmental protection as well. They are "women without a country." If any of them should get on shipboard and die at sea, by what principles of law could their estates be conserved and administered? Where would it be possible to authenticate their wills?

But assume they all live to serene old age, as we hope, and bear a numerous progeny, since the nationality of children everywhere follows that of the father, will the woman thus emancipated feel a very deep sense of satisfaction in being an alien to her own children?

GIVING HIM LESS ROPE.

Women are capable of making many substantial and worth-while contributions toward the advancement of the political order, but some of them appear to need to absorb the feelings of Burke, that we should approach to look into the defects of the state with due caution; that we should never dream of beginning its reformation by its subversion; that we should approach to its faults as to the wounds of a father, with pious awe and trembling solicitude; and look with horror on those children who would hack the aged parent to pieces and put him in a magician's kettle, in the hope that by their poisonous weeds and wild incantations they may regenerate the paternal constitution.

SENATOR CAPPER'S PROGRAM.

Senator Capper of Kansas has outlined a rather pretentious program of constructive legislation which, he says, must be enacted if the Republican party is to continue in power. Detailed discussion is not necessary at this time, but two items, at least, may be considered.

One is the declaration against the proposed ship subsidy measure and the other the necessity of promoting European recovery and re-establishing foreign markets.

The additional burden of $50,000,000 a year which the ship subsidy scheme would impose on the people arouses Mr. Capper's ire and apprehension. It is somewhat difficult, however, to understand why a Senator who enthusiastically supported the Fordney-McCumber tariff's levy of billions should balk at the ship subsidy's comparatively trivial cost. It seems to be a case of straining at a gnat and swallowing a camel—a whale of a camel, too.

Similarly as regards the rehabilitation of Europe and the restitution of foreign markets. It would be hard to devise a single measure that would so effectively retard European recovery and destroy foreign markets so completely as the present tariff.

The Post-Dispatch indorses Mr. Capper's opposition to the burdens of further subsidies and approves his declaration as to the revival of foreign markets, but can any program of constructive legislation be complete or quite honest that does not include the repeal, or drastic revision, of the "tariff abominations" of the Capper program, we fear, is fatally defective.

A "secret census" reveals 500 bootleggers in Washington, D. C. Now for a "secret census" of their customers on the dry side of Congress.

THE WILSON FOUNDATION.

More than 100,000 citizens from all walks of life have contributed approximately $700,000 to the Woodrow Wilson Foundation. The originators of this testimonial to Mr. Wilson fixed their objective at $1,000,000. They hope to raise the remaining $300,000 within the next six weeks so that on Dec. 28, Mr. Wilson's sixty-sixth birthday, they may include in their congratulations the statement that the fund has been completed.

This fund will be used to endow an annual award for distinguished public service by way of commemorating the Wilson ideals. When the movement was launched Mr. Wilson's fortunes, as regards the popularity of his doctrines, were at their lowest ebb. How the tide has turned does not require comment. Evidence of the change had, of course, been remarked. Striking proof has been given by the movie audiences where the appearance of the former President on the screen has been more tumultuously received than that of any other figure in public life. The acclaim of Armistice Day a year ago has been told vividly to Post-Dispatch readers in the article reprinted from Collier's. The invalid's slow but determined recovery, it is said, dates from the moral tonic of that impressive hour when the Unknown Soldier was buried and Woodrow Wilson was resurrected.

The admirers of Mr. Wilson, the believers in his gospel of universal freedom and justice, can truly grieve the cause he embodies by subscribing to this fund. Subscriptions may be sent National Headquarters, The Woodrow Wilson Foundation, 150 Nassau street, New York City.

JUST A MINUTE

Written for the POST-DISPATCH
By Clark McDanna

Sir: Half a physician's work is done when he has diagnosed his case. That means that he has located his patient's trouble and has defined it; his next step is to isolate it, keep it clear of complications, then fight, having robbed it of the reinforcements lying around ready. The disease of anti-Volssteadism has diagnosed, its location has defined itself, as Lincoln tri-sected the Confederacy by moving down the Mississippi and across Georgia, so we are sewing the Constitution busters up in one and another little sack and stowing them away.

The location of this disease is in the foreign sections of the larger cities. Its strength is all in un-Americanized America ("all" do you get that?); the figures showing where Reed got his votes are cleverer and astuter than any thinking of Reed's has ever been.

Un-Americanized America is the America not yet but soon to be Americanized; they all fail for it sooner or later; nothing yet, has resisted the assimilative power of old U. S. A. A majority of the names in our casualty lists, I believe, were of German origin. An honorable proportion of them in all wars have been. Nothing wrong with un-Americanized America except that it is the victim of circumstance; it is peasant-minded; in all of Europe south of the Baltic, even in the British Islands, class consciousness is drunk in with the milk from the breast. Coming to America every European peasant thinks it is a place where his class beats all the other classes voting. Ten per cent of the immigrants outgrow this; step outside this class; 90 per cent, of the second generation are outside it and from 95 to 98 per cent of the third generation.

We for I am one of them, are formed in a different matrix from that of our peasant-minded forbears; we excel our forbears not in what we have done; I would give my life to see in my children the stature of some of the immigrant friends of my immigrant forbears. Nothing wrong with un-Americanized America except that it is the victim of circumstance; it is peasant-minded; in all of Europe south of the Baltic, even in the British Islands, class consciousness is drunk in with the milk from the breast. Coming to America every European peasant thinks it is a place where his class beats all the other classes voting. Ten per cent of the immigrants outgrow this; step outside this class; 90 per cent, of the second generation are outside it and from 95 to 98 per cent of the third generation.

Besides this every American spends a little time in Sunday school. A beer attorney who knew the truth said one time with satisfaction as it is known to few but beer attorneys: "Darned little." But long enough for the child to come into touch with a certain master teacher who teaches the child at 6 to answer to the question that has puzzled the philosophy of all ages: an answer that seems beyond the reach of all philosophy—the cause and cure of evil. It teaches him so that he never becomes untaught. It makes him the infallible enunciator of one changeless principle. He (and also, she, sometimes) may join an "exclusive" club, may get into a social set which has naturalized diamonds, cocktails and the Oriental dance; he may be successful in accumulating money, or sink to the estate of a Market street panhandler; but he knows and will know as long as he can think. The unalien majority of these are America. Prohibition is strongest where these two kinds of education are strongest, weakest where they are weakest.

The immigrant gets this only as it filters in through his school-going children; 10 per cent of the immigrant generation come through before they die. They elected Reed; they elected five less than one-third of the next House; they elected more Senators to have three less in the next than in the present Congress. Cincinnati, Cleveland, Louisville, Detroit and now San Francisco are sewed up in prohibition states; we shall have St. Paul and Minneapolis when we want them; it will not take five years to get Philadelphia and Pittsburgh or 10 to get Boston; the political capital of Indiana, French Lick, is sewed up in a prohibition state which does not know how to prohibit but is learning. The disease is diagnosed and isolated; the cure proceeds.

JOHN MCCARTHY,
Pastor Immanuel Methodist Church.

Scholim Aleichum: From your kiosk "K.S.D." last night we had the pleasure of hearing one of the Atrol. Dr. K. M. Soper, if we remember correctly. He proclaimed what terrific damage was done by some among us who maintain that matter is unreal and nonexistent and mind only real. By denying the existence of disease and its symptom, pain, they rob man of his only chance of cure in at least one disease, cancer. This seeming true, we perceive the opportunity of making a few shekels, talents or any other coinage that you may see fit to split with us on a strictly fair and equitable 50-50 basis on our own abuse.

Would you be so kind as to put us in touch with your high-speed, triple-expansion thinking Analyticon, Flintburgers or any of the others, for a debate at the Agora on the proposition:

Resolved that: Whereas, The Christian (pseudo) Scientists, New Thoughters, etc., maintain that there is no pain, disease or death, there can be no need for a practitioner, there being no disease to combat, or, there being need for a healer, there must be disease.

This would serve as a preliminary, leading to the meat of the proposition, one that the entire community is interested in.

Hoping to hear from you in a favorable way soon, as the enterprise should be a profitable venture for both promoters and spectators, a capacity attendance being an absolute certainty, we remain,

The luck of England triumphs over most difficulties. At a time when our merchant marine threatens to imperil her sea trade, prohibition steps in to put us out of the running.

Nobody seems to know why Jonathan Davis was elected Governor of Kansas on a day when the rest of the Democratic ticket was going down to defeat by from ten to twenty thousand votes and the Legislature was being overwhelmingly packed with Republicans. Mr. Davis thinks he won because he had promised to repeal the industrial court law; but since the people did not provide him with a Democratic Legislature which could make the pledge good, that could hardly have been it. We think Jonathan did it. It suggests either, and Kansas is crazy about either.

Sir: After a fight between two boys, the loser, wiping a bloody nose and picking up a few watered teeth from the ground, said between sobs, "Gee, I wasn't doing my best at all. I coulda licked him if I tried."

Mr. Wayne B. Wheeler, after the election returns showed Illinois voted wet by three to one, announced that the dregs of Illinois had been instructed by the Anti-Saloon League not to vote on the beer-and-wine issue. Ho hum!

PHILLIP MCCANN.

We suspect that Wayne Wheeler is going to be busier than an ant on a hot rock when the new Congress convenes.

The MIRROR of PUBLIC OPINION

OUR OWN SECRET FASCISM.

From the Nation.
LAS for true Americanism! The Klan is a thing with opposition. That was to be expected in Milwaukee. There the Socialist Mayor has called the organizer from Georgia that Milwaukee will become "the hottest place this side of hell for the Ku Klux Klan if any of the Klan passes upon one of our citizens, whether he be black or white, red or yellow, Jew or Gentile, Catholic or Protestant." Milwaukee boasts that for her order it stands, under its Socialist government, first among all the cities of the world, and the Mayor warns the Klan that its attempt to "take over" the city will be met by the most determined resistance.

"Will land your officers and thousands of your members in the penitentiary if passed in Kansas," Gov. Allen, the autocrat, has taken the arrival of the Klan as an excuse for a further exhibition of his failure to understand the fundamentals of American life by announcing that the Klan will be run out of the State. This gubernatorial suppressor of free speech has directed the Attorney-General to resort to the injunction to drive the Klan away—an un-American method of getting rid of an un-American menace. In the case to which we assign him as foremost of the Klan as "an insult and affront to American citizens" in Chicago the head of a national body has been compelled to resign because he accepted membership in the Klan. In Atlanta the head of the Klan has been indicted for violating the secret societies; our George F. Babbitt was being founded to purify the old. # The Vespers Meant "Good Night" for That Wilsonville Soccer Football Eleven

Vespers Trim Wilsonville In U. S. F. A. Cup Game, 8-0 And Advance to 3rd Round

Soccer Eleven From Dorchester, Ill., Displays Little Knowledge of Rudiments of Game—Team Has Only Five Shots at Goal in 90 Minutes.

By Herman Wecke.

About 3300 soccer fans went to High School Field yesterday expecting to witness a contest between two eleven's that had worked their way into the second round of the competition for national honors. What they saw was one eleven that played the game as it should be played and another that knew very little about the rudiments of the pastime. The clash was between the Vesper-Buicks of the St. Louis Soccer League and Wilsonville of Dorchester, Ill. The Vespers won, 8 to 0, and thereby advanced a notch in the fight for national honors.

The Vespers won, but there is not a great deal of credit attached to the victory. The visitors had a very sleeve-like defense and as for an offense, there was none. It was the easiest game McCarthy's men ever took part in. Pitted against a municipal eleven, Wilsonville would have been defeated.

However, the game was just one of those things that happen in the life of the U. S. F. A. competition. Wilsonville came here with a record of having lost no games in three years. But no one has ever been able to find out how many games the eleven played each season. Johnston City was the eleven Wilsonville eliminated in the first round.

Five Shots at Goal. Statistics on the game show just how badly the visitors were outplayed. In the first half, they had just one shot at goal, while in the second, with the wind to their backs, the count was four, making a total of five in the 90 minutes of battling. Against this, the Vespers had a total of 25, 14 of them coming in the opening half.

Towards the finish, the game became a farce. On several throw-ins, Outside Right Pepper jabbed his mitts into the air and tried to play basketball. On another occasion, a Wilsonville man booted the ball over his head toward the goal he was defending. The arbiters, who were to be foreign-born, knew little about the present day game of soccer. But what mattered that? They got the money as a total of 226 paid at the gate.

There's no use trying to pick a star for the team. Outside Left Pomato tried his best at all times, as did Andy Easton, at fullback. But the others figured to do for or less of a jor-ride before the opening period had been completed.

Vespers Work Smoothly. For the Vespers, it might just as well be stated that the entire eleven started. There was no need to do for the backfield, no punier was the defense of the invading eleven. Charley La Barge might just as well have been supplied with a rocking chair and a magazine. He stopped two shots, and neither one of them was hard. Fitzgerald, finding life mighty lonesome in the backfield, spun up several times and dribbled the sphere through two-thirds of the rival team. And that's the way it went.

The Vespers wrapped up the game in the first half, when they counted six times. After 10 minutes, Winter scored the first goal during a scrum in front of the uprights. For the next 18 minutes, the men of McCarthy tried to do for or less of a jor-ride before the opening period had been completed.

Yale's Unbeaten Machine of 1892 To Hold Reunion

Twelve Men and Manager of Team Never Scored Against in 13 Games to Meet Saturday.

There will be a remarkable foot ball reunion at New Haven next Sat urday, when Yale and Harvard meet in their annual football game. Thir teen men will figure in the reunion—12 men who made up the Yale foot ball team of 1892, 12 men who played against Harvard that year, and the student manager of the team. The squad had a remarkable record. It played 13 games, won them all and was not scored against.

But the record of the team was no more remarkable than the record of the 13 men since then. All are liv ing, all have been successful in busi ness and professional life and all are in good health. The 13 men will gather at New Haven, traveling from all parts of the country.

One St. Louisian will be at the re union. He is William Maffitt, vice president of the Mercantile Trust
Co., who was manager of the 1892
Yale team and president of the foot ball association. Other members of the team and the position each played:

Vance C. McCormick, quarterback and captain; chairman of the Na tional Democratic Committee, Wil son's first administration.

L. T. Bliss, halfback, now in mer cantile business in East.

C. D. Bliss, halfback; banker in East.

Frank Butterworth, fullback; fi nancier, New Haven.

Philip T. Stillman, center; banker,
New York.

W. O. Hickok, guard; manufactur er, Harrisburg, Pa.

James A. McCrea, guard; vice pres ident in charge of Central Division, Pennsylvania Railroad.

W. C. Winter, tackle; broker, Chi cago.

F. A. Hinkley, end; manufacturer,
Terra Ceia, N. C.

John C. Greenway, end; mining engineer, Warren, Arizona.

A. H. Wallis, tackle; manufacturer,
East Orange, N. J.

H. S. Graves, halfback; lawyer,
New York.

The team defeated Harvard that year, 6 to 0; beat Princeton, 12 to 0, and humbled Pennsylvania, 28 to 0.

That was in the days of mass play,
when Yale dominated the football world. In those days it was consid ered a disgrace for a big team to permit its goal line to be crossed, ex cept by one of the Big Three.

Even in those days the demand for seats far exceeded the supply.
The largest crowd Yale played to that year was 23,000, at the Polo Grounds, for the Princeton game on Thanksgiving day. That crowd was capacity and was considered mar velous. The next best crowd of the year saw the Yale-Harvard game at Hampden Park, Springfield, Mass.

In those days the 11 men who started the game continued until they were hurt, and if they were taken out they could not return to the game. In the game of 1892
there was only one change, Graves going to one of the halfback posi tions for the last 10 minutes of play.

OREGON AND CALIFORNIA
TIED FOR FIRST PLACE

By the Associated Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 20.—
Oregon's 10-to-0 victory over the Oregon Aggies Saturday sent the Eugene team into a tie with the champion California eleven for first place in the Pacific Coast conference.
They do not meet this year.

Oregon plays Washington at Seat tle Thanksgiving day in its last con ference game of the year while Cal ifornia has yet to meet Stanford. In the latter game California has all the advantage, but in the Northern contest, the Seattle Huskies may wreck Oregon's claims for a second year of the Far West's championship hon ors.

By the Associated Press.
ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 20.—The Au burn Plainsmen, who swept the Col umbia Colonels from their pinnacle of football fame Saturday by the score of 4 to 0 in one of the closest and hardest fought games of the season, were hailed today as the greatest eleven that has represented Alabama Polytechnic Institute since 1913-14.

It was the first time in two years that the Centre team had met defeat
by a Southern rival.

But four Dixie teams are left with no defeats that would affect their Southern ranking. Auburn remains one of them and the others are Vir ginia Tech, which downed its rival, Georgia, 12 to 0; North Caro lina, which clearly outplayed Davi son, 28 to 6; and Georgia Tech, which defeated North Carolina State, 17 to 0.

None of the triumphant four plays again until Thanksgiving day brings the season to a close.

The Saddlekick

A Great New Fun Maker for Boys and Girls

Propelled by one or both feet on level stretches, a dandy coaster on the grades, ride either sitting or standing, the Saddlekick gives more thrills and delights than any other vehicle of its class.

Sturdy—Safe—Speedy

The Saddlekick is a source of fun and an aid to youthful service. You can Saddlekick to school, to the store on the after-school errand, to the playground; wherever your fancy dictates during playtime hours. The Saddlekick will take you there and back, rosy-cheeked, happy and strong muscled from vigorous, glorious exercise. Saddlekick construction includes an underslung platform, reinforced with strong metal frame; rubber-tired 10-inch disc wheels, roller bearing; a saddle that is adjustable to four heights; polished hardwood steering handle—the whole a beautiful, wear-resisting vehicle, built to stand hard knocks and remain for long a worthy playfellow—a prized possession.

You Can Get One FREE of All Cost!

THE POST-DISPATCH offers you a Saddlekick in payment for a little spare-time service.

You can earn one of these handsome sturdy little cars by your own effort, without interference with school or other duties, taking subscriptions to the Daily POST-DISPATCH.

ONLY 3 Subscriptions

They are always trying to get new subscribers and keep them and to do this they print pictures of entrancing beauties ever-young and over-fascinating, which is quite what they should do, of course, for beauty is a magnet that draws us all. But, after all, there are hundreds of thousands of middle-aged and elderly women who read the newspapers, though they don't read them a bit more than the young and beautiful do, and I shouldn't wonder if they were quite encouraged about the newspapers right now.

Here's to the new Senator from Georgia! She brings to the Council Chamber of the Nation for the short time that she will be there the tradition of kindly, loving, human, home-making, home-preserving womanhood with common sense and intelligence and courage and character behind it.

May we all profit by the example she will set us.

How to Make Sofa Pillows Both "Comfy" and Beautiful.

SOFA pillows have a way of getting shabby all of a sudden, and it is sometimes expedient to put slip covers on them while waiting for a convenient season to purchase the new tops. In buying new pillows examine those stuffed with duck down. They make soft, comfortable pillows, and are good for use under nine coverings. The real feather pillows are heavier and wear better. The cheaper fillings of moss, felt, cotton and fiber are better for out-of-doors pillows.

A close-nap plush always makes a serviceable cover, which may be brushed and wiped off without injury, and the pillows covered with it are nice as a foundation on which to rest the fancy ones. Blues, browns, greens and purples are usually selected with an occasional red if the couch happens to be black or tan.

The black velvet pillows are very fashionable. They are nearly all embroidered in gold or are decorated with gold applique. One pillow has a finish of wide gold lace set in flat at the seam and shaped and fitted at the corners so that it lies flat on one side of the pillow. Here it is caught with orange cross-stitches following the pattern on the edge of the lace. The work is very effective. At each corner there is a large black satin rosette with a yellow heart like a poppy center.

The soft meal-bag type of cushion made of black velvet is tied with a splashing big bow of black satin ribbon, and the top lined with orange velvet, the only color on the cushion.

Another of this peculiar style is made of heavy gray satin tied with a big bow of silver ribbon. The top is lined with blue velvet and violet velvet fringes are applied on the front of the pillow.

Heart-shaped pillows are very popular, and are usually made with a ruffled edge. One made entirely of ribbon was braided in pink-and-blue satin ribbon and finished with a double ruffle of the pink and blue ribbon. Both sides of this pillow were alike, though many have one side of plain satin to match one of the ribbons.

Another new idea is to cover a pillow with a colored satin, then to make an outer cover of bolting-cloth in soft cream white done in drawn work. The pillow is finished with a narrow pleating of ribbon to match the lining of the pillow. These make dainty but rather dressy pillows for common use.

Bedroom couch pillows covered with unbleached muslin are appliqued in the colored linens that harmonize with the decorations of the room and the flower or fruit patterns are finished with black stitching, which gives them a raised effect that is very attractive.

The bubble pillows are those covered with a daintily colored silk or linen. The dies, buttonholed in place. They all ascend from a clay pipe, made of white canvas, fastened at one corner.

New nursery pillows are white muslin covered with Mother Goose and other well-known children's characters done in outline work in colors. Diamond-shaped pillows are rather new, and somehow do not seem to fit anywhere prettily, and

Maxims of a Modern Maid

By Marguerite Mooers Marshall

(Copyright, 1922.)

WHEN a girl tells a young man that he has no right to say such things to her, the only point for him to notice is whether she keeps on listening.

Your perfect lover often fails as a husband, but not because of defects in mind or character—he could live THEM down! The trouble is that marriage seems to cramp his style of love-making—so far as his wife is concerned.

Perhaps one reason why a young man likes to play around with the girl who expects him to spend all his money on her is because he realizes that his liberty, if not his purse, is safer than in the company of the quiet little thing who guards his bank account as if it were her own—she intends it shall be!

Every chaperon, like every enforcer of prohibition, is technically incorruptible. There are other likenesses.

A man is sometimes afraid of the things he will see in a woman's face, but it's the thing he won't see there which he ought to fear.

We were getting to the point where an ankle by the Platon's rim a simple ankle was to him, and it was nothing more. But Platon Corner will be itself again if the long skirt covers a multitude of shins.

One of the reasons why the business girl marries is because she gets so tired of having the boss ask her for an itemized expense account, and one of the reasons why a married woman goes into business is because she gets so tired of having her husband ask her for an itemized expense account.

The unwritten law is simply the lynch law of passion.

are not so very comfortable. These pillows are covered with broadened silk and finished with gold lace, gold flowers and little gold cords and tassels.

If one has extra pillows that are not needed for the beds it is an easy matter to shake down the feathers and tuck in the tick to half their original size and overhand them firmly with double cotton. This does not injure the pillow in the least, and makes another sofa pillow available where there are so many needed on the couch or day bed. The latter has its two-end pillows or rolls. Extra pillows thrown over them add to comfort.

Dish toweling in the large plaids, done in elaborate cross-stitch patterns, is a new feature in cushion covers. They are really very pretty. The work is put on the white plaids in the color of the dark plaids, which makes it very effective. The cross-stitches used are the double or crown stitches, which cover the material more closely than the old single stitch, giving a richer appearance.

A Test for the asking

The coupon will bring you a 10-Day Tube of Pepsodent.

Even that short test will be a revelation. You will see results which old methods never bring.

To millions of homes those results have brought a new era in teeth cleaning. Prove them in your home. Send coupon now.

Last Year—And Now

Now prettier teeth—an open smile
Safer, cleaner teeth—no dingy film

Every month, this new teeth-cleaning method is adopted by many thousand homes. Perhaps a million people yearly see these new effects.

So everywhere. Careful people of some fifty nations use this method now. And dentists the world over are advising its adoption.

If you don't know what this new way means, send for this test and see.

Try combating film

Dingy teeth and most tooth troubles are due to film. To that viscous film you feel. It clings to teeth, gets between the teeth and stays.

Food stains, etc., discolor it, then, it forms cloudy coats. Tartar is based on film. That is why beautiful teeth are seen less often among people who don't fight film.

Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acids. It holds the acids in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Those troubles have been constantly increasing. Very few people escaped. All because no ordinary tooth paste can effectively fight film.

Now you can combat it

Dental science has now found effective ways to fight film. One acts to curdle it, one to remove it, without harmful scouring.

After many careful tests, authorities approved these methods. Now leading dentists the world over are advising their daily use.

A new-type tooth paste has been created, based on modern research. It protects the teeth in five new ways, and avoids some old mistakes. Those two great film combatants are embodied in that tooth paste for daily application. The name is Pepsodent.

Old methods wrong

Modern research also proves that old-type tooth pastes bring undesired effects. They reduce the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits on teeth which may otherwise ferment and form acids.

They reduce the alkalinity of the saliva. That is there to neutralize mouth acids which cause tooth decay.

Pepsodent corrects those errors. It multiplies the starch digestant, multiplies the alkalinity. Every use gives manifold power to Nature's great tooth-protecting forces in the mouth.

It also polishes the teeth so film less easily adheres.

For all these reasons, Pepsodent is fast displacing the methods of the past.

Delightful Effects Appear Quickly

The results of Pepsodent are quick and apparent. Some are almost instant. New beauty appears when the dingy film-coats go. Everyone who sees and feels these effects has a new conception of what clean teeth mean. They mean more to children than to you. It means a way to better avoid the troubles that you may have suffered.

Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear.

Then read the reason for each result in the book we send. You will realize then how much this method means to you and yours. Cut out the coupon now.

The New-Day Dentifrice

Dentists say USE BOTH!

Two attacks on teeth The new scientific way to meet both

AT last—a method of tooth protection that dentists everywhere heartily endorse! A method that protects teeth not from one alone but from the two great destructive forces.

There are two enemies constantly attacking your teeth.

One is the dental mucin, sometimes called film. This forms on the surface of the teeth making them ugly and discolored.

The other is the acid decay that comes from the fermentation of tiny food particles in between teeth. The new Sanitol method protects your teeth from both.

First softens, then removes

Sanitol Tooth Paste keeps the teeth smooth and beautifully white. It first softens then removes the ugly dental mucin.

Because it removes this filmy coating so effectively it is unusually successful in restoring whiteness to teeth that have already begun to yellow. It is prepared with the very finest dental chalk.

Floods in all crevices

Sanitol Liquid Antiseptic counteracts the acid decay. It floods into the smallest crevices, purifies them and removes the tiny food particles that so quickly ferment and eat into the tooth surfaces. It also strengthens soft, tender gums (often forerunners of pyorrhea) and frees the breath from all odor.

Send for trial sizes

A two weeks' test will convince you that the natural whiteness of your teeth can be restored and that hidden surfaces can be protected from decay.

Try the two samples at our expense. See coupon.

"Now, don't forget to tell the cook that these things are for Col. Slocum

A gentleman of mild aspect had been a witness to this. As the head-

"Just a minute, please," said the second patron. "I want to give an
